

Greater teaching effectiveness being sought here

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

A constant goal of teachers, parents and taxpayers—increased instructional effectiveness—will be in the spotlight here tomorrow afternoon.

In-service training for all teachers in Community Unit School District Nine will be conducted at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the Granite City High School South auditorium. Students will be dismissed by noon that day, the precise times varying due to differing bus schedules.

"We've been trying to schedule an appearance by Dr. Thomas L. McGreal for some time, and we're happy we were able to obtain him as tomorrow's speaker," Curriculum Coordinator Warren Collins said.

The associate professor in the Department of Education at the University of Illinois has done extensive research on teaching evaluation and effectiveness, including more than 400 school systems across the nation.

"An example of his findings is the concept of building self-confidence and motivation in students through successes in answering questions and solving problems," Collins explained.

"He also plans to emphasize the quality of learning, rather than merely the quantity."

"And he will discuss time management—devoting classroom time to engagement in instruction rather than non-instructional activities. Instead of increasing class hours or homework, he seeks to maximize the use and value of the time that is spent on learning."

As a further aid to teaching effectiveness, the Granite City Board of Education last week authorized the district to enter into an agreement with the federal "Action" agency.

District Nine will serve as a host site for "foster grandparents," a program outlined at the board meeting by Merna M. Musterman, gifted program coordinator.

It was endorsed as of potential benefit to special education by Vasil Eftimoff, pupil personnel services administrator, and Steve Balen, new director of the Quad-City special education region.

Balen was introduced to District Nine board members. He succeeds Larry R. Dew, who accepted a position as financial administrator of a school district in Missouri.

Mrs. Musterman said, "After the Action agency has recruited and pre-screened candidates, a representative of our district will interview the prospective volunteers and participate in the placement. I performed this function for the RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program) and am willing to be involved in this procedure in cooperation with Mr. Balen.

"The foster grandparent volunteers will be required to be residents of the Granite City school district, in view of the unemployment level here. Also, close proximity is important from the standpoint of transportation costs and convenience.

"Students will be under the direct and immediate supervision of a certified staff member at all times. Our district won't be responsible, financially or otherwise, for the required annual tuberculosis test and physical examination for the foster grandparent volunteers.

"The new program will expand our existing volunteer services, which consist of RSVP and extensive parent help, as recruited by individual schools. All persons must have Board of Education approval to become authorized volunteers."

Supt. B. J. Davis said the foster grandparents will do a variety of classroom, library and clerical tasks, assisting teachers where appropriate.

Board Member Robert Maxwell said the program could be rewarding to both students and senior citizens through ILLINOIS LEGISLATORS address the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at its annual "Legislation Night" dinner at Charlie's Restaurant. Sharing the spotlight, left to right, are State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-56 District), State Representative Celeste Stiehl (R-Belleview), Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, who served as master of ceremonies, and State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City).

GC retires $700,000; to pay rest by Dec. 1

Granite City has now paid off $700,000 of the $900,000 it borrowed in tax anticipation warrants and should be paying off the remaining $200,000 by Dec. 1, according to City Treasurer Nick Petrillo.

The receipt of new tax money from local residents and from the county treasurer have enabled most of the warrants to be paid off, but some additional borrowing will be necessary for a short time, Petrillo indicated. In addition to the $900,000, the city also issued a $500,000 bank note, which does not have to be repaid until June. That brought total borrowing to $1.2 million this summer, of which $500,000 is still owed, he said.

The city council has approved the borrowing of another $400,000 in tax anticipation warrants, which will not have to be repaid until the first taxes are received next fall, but it has not yet been necessary to issue any of those warrants Petrillo said.

He believes that some borrowing will be necessary in November, since the only anticipated income to the city, approximately $265,000, will be from the state sales tax and court fines, which will not be enough to pay two payrolls during November of $161,000 each. It is likely that $300,000 of the authorized $400,000 will be borrowed at this time, he noted.

However, Petrillo predicted, "I can see a little light in January, when the new allocation of revenue sharing funds and other taxes are received."

Mayor Paul Schuler commented, "We'll work it out. I really don't think we have a problem."

Alderman Jake Varadani of the Fifth Ward asked if the last city council meeting if all of the city's bills are paid and Petrillo responded, "The bill list is current."

Several city funds which are supported by separate tax levies have not been funded in recent months and Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the finance committee, wants to know why.

Bowler's comments followed a transfer by the council of $20,000 from the sales tax fund into the workmen's compensation fund to cover a shortage in the latter fund. "That fund was to be self-sustaining and I was told three to four weeks ago there were not sufficient funds. I want to know why this was not funded each month per council directive."

City Treasurer Nick Petrillo said he was unaware of the council's directives

Pretreatment bill for industry placed on first reading by GC

An ordinance establishing an industrial sewage pretreatment program for Granite City has been placed on first reading by the Granite City Council and is expected to be considered for final passage on Tuesday, Oct. 27.

The 33-page ordinance was mandated by the federal Environmental Protection Agency to clean up discharges of harmful and difficult-to-treat industrial substances into the Mississippi River from the Granite City primary and secondary sewage treatment plant.

It also calls for the setting up of a Granite City Water Pollution Control Board to mediate disagreements between the director of the pretreatment program and industries controlled by the program.

Basically, the ordinance calls for testing of the sewer discharges of 17 primary industrial users of the city's sewers to determine the type and quantity of any substances which are hard to treat (such as sand and heavy metals) or dangerous (such as flammable liquids, acids and caustic chemicals).

Industries found to be discharging such substances will be required, under discharge permits, to pretreat their sewage according to city standards before dumping it into the city's sanitary sewers.

Regular checks of each industry, laboratory analysis of the samples taken and enforcement actions against those violating their discharge permits also are called for in the proposed ordinance. Fines may be imposed by the city on industries which disregard the regulations and the fines are subject to review in the civil courts, if the industry being fined is not satisfied with the findings of the city's Water Pollution Control Board.

Under EPA regulations, the industries involved in the program must pay the entire cost of setting up the program and operating it. Bills of nearly $2,000 each have been sent to the 17 industries involved to pay for the 25 percent local share of the cost of

Adlai woos, wins county Democrats

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Illinois was governed by the late Adlai Stevenson in 1948-52 and ought to be governed in 1982-86 by his son, in the opinion of former U. S. Senator Adlai Stevenson III, who addressed a cheering throng of 700 Madison County Democrats last night.

Asserting that Illinois has become "inert" and economically depressed under Republican leadership, Stevenson promised a vigorous statewide campaign.

Standing ovations were given to Stevenson and Congressman Melvin Price, also Stevensons, made a point of individually greeting all of those attending.

Many of the speakers praised Chairman Christ Costoff and Secretary-Treasurer Sam Wolf for their leadership "of the party of the people" in this county.

The annual John F. Kennedy memorial champagne banquet, a sit-down beef dinner, offered a political smorgasbord of officeholders, former officials and those wishing to move up the ladder of elective offices.

But with businesslike State Senator Sam Vadalabene as moderator, the introductions and talks moved speedily, leaving ample time afterward for dancing and for "Senator Sam" to sing one of the numbers played by the Joey James Orchestra.

The head table included State Senator Kenneth Buzbee of Carbondale, a lieutenant governor hopeful who gave out bee-shaped label stickers; Todd Renfro of Springfield, president of the Illinois Democratic county chairmen's association; State Treasurer Jerome Cosentino, who plans to run for Illinois secretary of state; Walter "Buck" Simmons, clerk of the Appellate Court; Earl Lazerson, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, whose Meridian Ballroom was the site of the dinner; and Illinois AFL-CIO President Robert Gibson, a former Granite Cityan.

A hard-hitting talk assailing policies of the federal administration was given by Cong. Price, powerful chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. The 23rd District lawmaker has been a

Reagan shows leadership, but health and safety are issues, speaker tells Chamber

The administration of President Ronald Reagan has given "a real opportunity to show business leadership and help America," but failure to show responsibility in the areas of safety and public health will lead to a return of costly government regulations, John V. Morse, director of community and state government relations for Monsanto Co., told a gathering of 190 persons at the annual meeting of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday night at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

"We said we could make business work if we could get government off our back. Now they called our bluff," Morse contended.

He said economists estimate that government regulations cost the U.S. economy $100 billion a year and the Reagan administration is willing to remove many of these costly regulations if industries and businesses are willing to show three things: self restraint, self denial and self reliance.

Self restraint must be shown in avoiding the temptation to act like a special interest group and try to have government protect only certain types of industries. This policy of special interest groups among industries has made the public and government suspicious of most businesses.

According to a recent Harris Poll, Morse said, only 16 percent of Americans polled have "a great deal of confidence in business in America," he said, adding, "We are getting an opportunity to present our ideas and sell them to America. We must show self restraint or lose this new-found interest the government has."

Self denial must be shown by allowing the government to restructure the tax system, cut import-export guidelines and take other actions which are necessary in conjunction with the decreases in government spending. In return, the government may be able to saddle the OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) programs, if industries are willing to "cooperate in monitoring the workplace."

Some self denial may be necessary to "initiate innovative arrangements in the state where the plant is located for a new spirit of cooperation and compromise," he said.

Self reliance must be demonstrated if industry is to "elicit the support of the private sector to the extent possible. The private sector is the one who is going to get the jobs done," he added.

If industry is to seize this unique opportunity to reduce government regulation, it must demonstrate all three. "Don't give the government any excuse to come in in the first place. Show a greater attention to produce quality and a greater attention to social

AWARD OF MERIT. The highest award a Boy Scout district can bestow on volunteer leaders, active for at least five years in the programs of the Boy Scouts of America, the District Award of Merit, was presented to six Quad-City Scout leaders during the weekend. Standing with their award from the left, Paula Ballou and Richard Ballou, both of Madison; Frances Shane, Robert Deckard and Carol Beyer, all of Granite City; Gustav (Jack) Cornier, not pictured, also was presented with the award.

Two physicians offer new service to terminally ill

Because of the dedication of two doctors, a new service is available to people with life-threatening diseases.

The doctors, Dr. Betty Walston of Rosewood Heights and Dr. Charles Combs of St. Louis, will be practicing thanatology, the term used for their science. Dr. Walston received her doctorate from SIU at Carbondale. Before that she was a nurse for 20 years, 14 of those teaching. She studied care of the dying in England and Costa Rica while preparing for her doctorate.

Dr. Combs is a professor at SIU at Edwardsville, and he has taught at Arizona State University and at Syracuse University in New York. He has practiced clinical psychology and counseling for 30 years. Dr. Combs is a psycho-therapist and a licensed psychologist.

Both doctors feel there is a definite need for care between diagnosis and hospice. Dr. Walston said they need to help people deal with death as a part of life.

When a person is dying, Dr. Combs said, they need to resolve and accept the fact "I am dying."

"Death used to be a part of the family," Combs said. Birth happened at home and so did death.

"Today death is the biggest social obscenity. Nobody dies, 'they pass away,' or 'they're no longer with us' or 'they're gone.' Both doctors agree that dying is a process that has to be learned, just as living has to be learned.

There is a growing awareness of the hospice concept in which an organization offers an alternative to the agony of anticipation often felt by the terminally ill. Patients and families are offered both physical and emotional assistance in their homes on the premise that comfort and overall quality of life are best preserved in the home environment as opposed to the sterile hospital setting, the doctors said.

However, the two local professionals have observed a gap between diagnosis of a terminal condition and acceptance of the benefits of hospice care. The typical patient may exhibit various forms of denial and an unwillingness to accept a terminal diagnosis. Con-sequently, Dr. Walston and Dr. Combs have established a counseling service for these patients and their loved ones in order to "help the patient to accept, understand and work through the conflicts."

Dr. Combs and Dr. Walston are collaborating with area physicians to facilitate the transition from "cure" care by the physician to preservation of quality of life offered by hospice care. Among the physicians with whom they are working is Dr. Robert M. Lay with offices in Granite City and Glen Carbon.

Trick or treat safety stressed

By CATHERINE MAUCK
County Homecoming
Adviser

Many Illinois police departments have begun to encourage daytime trick-or-treating to give small ghouls and goblins an extra margin of safety.

But regardless of when your youngsters will be seeking their Halloween dues, you can help insure a happy experience.

Halloween poses three main threats to a child's safety.

Those dangers involve the costume child's inability to see, to be seen and to walk without tripping or falling. Using common sense in selecting masks, costumes and footwear can help eliminate these dangers.

A large mask with small eyeholes may impair a child's vision and cause him or her to bump or run into objects, fall off steps or dart into unseen traffic.

A close-fitting mask with large holes for the eyes is a much safer choice. Better yet—and equally effective in most cases—is to omit the mask and transform the child into the Halloween creature of his or her choice by using theatrical makeup.

Both commercial and homemade costumes should fit the child well so he or she is not ripping over too-long trousers or dangling from hems.

Style features—such as long, full sleeves, widely flared skirts, and flowing robes—not only make movement difficult, but also pose a fire hazard around candles or jack-o-lanterns. One idea you may want to consider is transforming a ready-made pair of flame-retardant pajamas into bunny, kitten, black cat, tiger, puppy, lamb or devil costumes by adding felt ears and tails.

Putting strips of reflective tape on any costume will make it more visible at twilight or in the dark.

Also, light-colored costumes are easier to see in, the dark than are those in dark colors.

Some youngsters want to wear big shoes, but oversized footwear can cause them to trip and fall. Wearing their own shoes is a much better idea.

It is best if parents accompany their children on trick-or-treating rounds. Older children may protest, but they really do appreciate your concern.

Being unobtrusive by walking a few paces behind the parent gives the child a chance to intervene if necessary, but allows the child to feel independent.

When the trick-or-treating is completed, parents should examine the "loot" with their children.

By giving children a chance to show them the treats they've collected, parents also get a chance to remove any suspicious items. Individually wrapped commercial items with wrappings intact are probably the safest treats.

Home-baked items are okay if you know from whom the children received them. An old-fashioned Halloween party may be the safest way to observe the day children's activities and treats can easily be supervised.

When planning Halloween activities, don't forget that the time change means it gets darker earlier.

Chromalloy net earnings show decline

Chromalloy American Corporation on Friday reported third quarter net earnings of $13,161,000 or 81 cents per primary share, compared with earnings of $14,197,000 or 93 cents per primary share in last year's third quarter.

On a fully diluted basis, earnings per share were 73 cents in the third quarter this year compared with 79 cents in the same period in 1980.

The Pre-Coat metals plant in Granite City is owned by Chromalloy American.

The impact of various non-operating factors, primarily provisions for losses on disposal of businesses versus gains in the third quarter last year, brought Chromalloy's net earnings below year-ago levels.

Net sales and operating revenues for the three months ended Sept. 30 were $373,392,000, compared with $385,932,000 in the third quarter of 1980.

Frank P. Nykiel, president and chief executive officer, said third-quarter 1981 operating earnings of Chromalloy's continuing operations were $2.4 million (7.3 percent) ahead of a year ago "despite weaknesses in some of the company's most important markets and losses in the foundry and farm equipment operations."

Many of the basic businesses around which we are being rebuilt showed substantial improvement."

Chromalloy's continuing operations, which do not include businesses sold to be sold under the asset redeployment program, had third-quarter 1981 net sales and operating revenues of $359,723,000, up 14.4 percent over sales of $314,415,000 in the same period last year.

Operating earnings were $5,038,000 in the third quarter, compared with $32,646,000 in the same period last year.

Nykiel said, "Third quarter income taxes were significantly lower than those of the comparable 1980 quarter. This resulted from much larger net investment tax credits in 1981 due to the substantial amount of capital expenditures forecast for this year."

USS New Jersey needs men to serve on crews

USS New Jersey (BB-42) is presently undergoing overhaul and modernization in Long Beach, Calif. The estimated $326 million dollar overhaul, which will include installation of Tomahawk and Harpoon missiles, will make New Jersey the most powerful armed surface ship in the world.

The modern technical improvements in New Jersey will offer a unique opportunity for her crew. Navy veterans and reservists in the following ratings are being sought to fill the remaining billets aboard New Jersey:

Boatswain mate, electricians mate, gunners mate, interior communications tech, life control tech, operations specialist, quality master and radioman.

Billets are being filled on a first-come, first-serve basis. Volunteers with experience, especially to make up the 180-man crews for the two 16-inch gun batteries, are needed.

Reservists and Navy veterans interested in applying, should call collect, station 19 station, (314) 263,5000, according to the Navy recruiting station in Granite City.

Film on cancer to be shown Oct. 30

A color film titled "Without Cancer: The Diet, Vitamin Approach" will be shown at the Prudential Savings and Loan Ass'n, 12017 Bellefontaine Rd., Spanish Lake, Mo., on Friday, Oct. 30 at 7:15 p.m. This meeting open to the public, according to Margo Evans of Granite City.

The nutritional and diet therapy as the treatment of cancer, including the substance, Laetrile and the Kelly Program are to be presented. Also, several local people who were terminal will tell about treatments that have resulted in their being cured.

Sponsor of the meeting is the St. Louis Chapter of the International Association of Cancer Factors and Friends. For information call David H. Hall, D.C., president of the group at 314-821-4145, Kay Peterson, vice-president at 314-895-2322 or East side call 876-2976.

Tickets on sale now for Wolf party

The Citizens for Sam Wolf Committee fund-raiser for State Representative Wolf is set for Monday, Nov. 30, at Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road.

The event will be a cocktail party starting at 5:30 and lasting until 7:30 p.m. Tickets can be purchased by mailing requests to the Citizens for Sam Wolf Committee at 1506 Johnson Road in Granite City. The tickets are priced at $25 each.

Rep. Wolf is now in his third term as a member of the Illinois House. He also maintains a real estate and insurance office in Granite City.

Numerous local and state officials have indicated they will attend the party, together with many friends and political acquaintances from the two-county area of the 56th Legislative District. Cocktails and hors-d'oeuvres will be served during the two-hour period.

GIVES PURSE AWAY

A busboy, thinking a lady had left her purse on the floor, picked it up and gave it to the wrong woman leaving Buck and Jan's Den, 2401 State St., at 9:30 p.m. Friday. The owner of the purse, Mary Skoyoff, 3316 Franklin Ave., had left her table with the purse on the floor. The busboy asked a lady leaving if she had forgotten her purse and she said yes, and took it. The woman taking the purse was described as pretty with brown curly collar-length hair, about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighing about 115 pounds and about 28 to 30 years of age. She reportedly left the restaurant in a small orange car with several people in the back seat. The purse contained cash, Cardinal football tickets, a checkbook and credit cards, with a total value of over $155.

Earnings Increase

At NATIONAL STEEL, National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel, today reported its third-quarter earnings rose to $94.6 million, or $1.85 a share, up from $87.2 million, or $1.67 a share, in the third quarter of 1980.

Net income was reduced by $6.5 million by write-off of equipment and engineering for discontinued projects at the Great Lakes Steel Division, which in third-quarter earnings are net income of $14 million from sale of land near Corpus Christi, Tex., and $3.5 million refund from the federal government in settlement of an environmental consent decree.

Nine-month earnings were $69.3 million or $3.70 a share on revenues of $3.24 billion, compared with earnings of $68.4 million or $3.60 a share on revenues of $2.93 billion in the first nine months of 1980. The 1980 figures included a net gain of $81.5 million from sale of coal reserves.

ELECTRICAL SAFETY. Granite City Steel President James V. Stack, right, presents Richard Turner, center, electrical general foreman at the plant, a special safety achievement award for more than 200,000 consecutive manhours by the department without a lost-workday injury. The 120 people in the department worked from Aug. 3, 1980, through Oct. 6, 1981, and have not broken the string. At left is the company's safety director, Ronald Haggerty.

Halloween parade in Pontoon Beach

The Pontoon Beach Lions Club will sponsor its fourth annual "Halloween Parade" for local children on Friday night, Oct. 30, in the parking area at Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center on Pontoon Road.

Parade chairman Lynn Votouppal said today registration for the event will begin at 6 p.m. Friday.

with the paraders starting their trek around the lot at 6:30 p.m. Masquerade costumes should be worn and cash prizes will be awarded to winning youngsters in five age groups, Mrs. Votouppal announced.

The age groups in which children may compete for honors are: 1 and 2 years; 3 to 5 years; 6 to 8 years; 9 and 10 years; and 11 through 13 years.

Judging the costume segment will be the presidents of the Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach Lions Clubs and their wives.

The judging panel will be seated on a flatbed truck, donated by M.C. Slater, Inc., which will permit an unobstructed view of the youthful marchers, Mrs. Votouppal advised.

Various prizes have been contributed by local merchants and will be distributed to the paraders.

Several special guests also are expected to attend, the chairman added.

year term as a member of the Board of Directors. She is now a member of the Board of the American Cancer Society and a charter member of the Old Six Mile Historical Society.

News notes

The latest home built by Granite City vocational students has been sold by Whitt Realty to Paul and Lynn Lauber of Granite City for $29,500. A three-bedroom split foyer home, it is the fourth residence constructed by local high school students in the vocational building trades program since 1973.

A fifth home is under construction, on Colgate Place.

The temperature fell to 25 degrees at 5 a.m. Saturday, setting a new low for Oct. 24. The previous day, a new record low of 28 was set.

The Bi-State Development Agency is in its new office building at 707 N. 1st St., Laclede's Landing, today.

Missouri Gov. Christopher Bond asked federal officials Thursday to stop financing the Health Systems Agency in this metropolitan area.

An investigation is continuing into the injury of Steve R. Brock, 25, Roachdale, Ind., who was hit chubking at 2:15 p.m. Oct. 20 beside eastbound Route Three near Interstate 270. He was picked up by two men in a two-door brown Buick and taken to Lewis and Clark Park. Wielding a knife and an automatic pistol, they forced him to lie on the ground there and hit him in the head with a rock. They fled after taking $75 in cash, a watch, a wallet and a backpack. He is in satisfactory condition at Oliver Anderson Hospital, Maryville.

He contended that the Environmental Protection Agency's mandated programs which have cost industry millions and millions of dollars came about because, "frankly, we just weren't attentive enough and I hope it was a valuable lesson," Morse said.

He said the government has promised "regulatory reason and budgetary sanity. They can't deny their promises if we carry out these responsibilities reliably," the speaker contended.

He concluded, "We've been given a second chance to gain the public's confidence. Let's act responsibly."

The new Chamber officers and directors for the 1981-82 fiscal year were installed during the event by Eric Robertson, master of ceremonies. The new president is David Knollman; first vice-president is William Donovan; second vice-president is Lawrence P. Dunn; treasurer is William Patton Jr., and the new executive vice-president is Alan G. Richardson.

Officers of the Women's Division who were sworn in were Shirley Fountain, president; Tina Thomas, vice-president; Beverly Partney, secretary; Mary Mateosian, treasurer; and Janet Mills, historian.

Directors of the Women's Division who were sworn in were the outgoing president, Bonnie Goldenberg, Shirley Adams, Jackie DeWitt, Barbara Mihalich and Rosalee Stern.

Special recognition and a gift were presented to Dale Arnett, who served as the interim executive vice-president until Richter could be hired and begin his duties.

Knollman, vice-president of First Granite City Savings and the Chamber's new president, said he is looking forward to the year ahead.

"We have a lot of work to do. I am happy Alan Richardson is with us and doing everything in his power to stimulate business and industry," Knollman appealed for "a combined effort by the city, public and business," to turn the corner and get Granite City growing.

Mrs. Fountain of Realty World Star, Inc., the new Women's Division President, said she is "excited about next year's term. I urge all women connected in any way with the Chamber to join our group." She gave a gift to the outgoing president, Mrs. Goldenberg. New directors of the Chamber installed were Shirley Adams, Donald Bridick, Ed Edwards, George Grove, Joseph Hassler, Tom Holloway, Arthur Harbec, Carl Mathias, David and Donald W. Partney Jr., William Patton Jr. and James Whitt.

Richardson said he is glad to accept his new position and is "impressed with the people I have met. This will be a challenging year in the area of economic development."

"I think we can turn the corner and get the word out that the Tri-Cities are as good a place to live, work and raise a family as anywhere else," he concluded.

Special recognition also was given to Shirley Adams, chairman of the Chamber Ambassadors, for the great accomplishments of that group in the past year. It was noted she also has agreed to head the Ambassadors for the new year.

Outgoing Chamber President E.A. "Dede" Karandjeff Jr. said he was disappointed with the progress of the Quad-City area during his administration and he noted, "We have to change direction. The board of directors desires goal-oriented work toward industrial and economic development and Alan's (Richardson) speciality is just that."

"The past year has been a failure. We have not drawn one new industry to Granite City. Now we have a chance to do that," Karandjeff contended.

Other speakers disagreed with Karandjeff's assessment of the past year, saying that the groundwork has been laid for the Quad-City area to attract new industry and to grow and improve as the economy of the United States improves.

Karandjeff also said, "We have to aggressively sell ourselves," as other areas are doing. He noted that this area has prime industrial property, rail, water and highway access, a central location and a good availability to raw materials and markets.

"We have to be as good or better than other locations at selling ourselves. To let those seeking industrial sites know that we have the golden triangle — industry, government and labor."

Knollman presented Karandjeff with a plaque and a scrapbook of the Chamber's accomplishments during the past year.

direct, regular contact between them, bridging the "generation gap."

Mrs. Musterman related that "on Sept. 5, 1978, the Board of Education approved a proposal to participate in RSVP, an organization supported by the federal agency known as Action. This has resulted in a number of individuals being approved by the board to serve in our various schools."

"While this program has enjoyed many mutual benefits, our requests for volunteers have surpassed availability and the condition is seemingly worsening."

According to RSVP Director Marge Hall, she is experiencing a shortage of volunteers in all host stations, but particularly in school systems. She continues to solicit persons through personal contacts and news media appeals.

"While we currently have no one active, as late as this morning Mrs. Hall talked with me about a specific person and assignment. In other words, the program is not dead but certainly is struggling for survival."

On several occasions during this period of involvement with RSVP, another volunteer agency supported by Action named Foster Grandparents has been soliciting our cooperation.

"Previously we were not interested in what appeared to be a duplication of similar efforts, and not until now did it seem prudent to pursue this second program. Mrs. Hall foresees no conflict of interest and, in fact, has encouraged us to cooperate with foster grandparents."

"Mr. Eftimoff, Mr. Balen, Barbara Mitchell, director of the foster grandparent program, and I met to discuss and consider the program. Mr. Balen has had previous experience with using the 'grandparents' and had a positive impression."

At the meeting we learned the specifics of the program and were able to compare it with RSVP. The principal objective of both volunteer programs is to provide an opportunity for men and women, 60 years and older, to serve their community in a meaningful way while experiencing personal satisfaction from being needed and helping others.

"Other similarities are that the criteria for acceptance does not require any educational or experience levels, and does emphasize personal traits and interests."

"The host site is asked to provide a free lunch, to designate a coordinator to serve as a liaison with the sponsor, and to assure adequate health and safety provisions."

"In both programs, volunteers are not allowed to perform duties that are the responsibilities of paid employees and, under no circumstances, are they intended to act as a substitute or to replace employees."

"In our case, tasks that are permitted are described in Policy IFCD-R, Rules and Regulations for Use of Volunteer Auxiliary Personnel. The volunteers are covered by accident and liability insurance, by Action."

"Characteristics that differentiate the foster grandparent program are: '1. The volunteers must be of low income. Individual yearly income cannot exceed $5,300. For a family of two, $7,115."

"2. Action pays the volunteer a tax-free stipend of $2 for each hour served. A travel allowance of $1.95 per day also is paid."

"The persons are required to volunteer four hours a day, five days a week."

"4. Assignments are made principally to serve occupational children who are mentally retarded or physically handicapped, or who suffer sight or hearing impairments or a language disorder, or who have a specific learning disability. Each 'grandparent' is assigned two children and devotes two hours a day to each."

"5. On, reductions or elimination of the tax levies from the workmen's compensation and health insurance funds can be considered."

"The council took no specific action on Bowler's request, but did approve the transfer of the $20,000 into the workmen's compensation fund."

to fund the workmen's compensation account each month and Bowler responded, "You were there (when the council acted)."

Pettillo answered Bowler's original question, saying, "Why isn't any fund funded? Insufficient funds. It's the same with the health (insurance) fund."

Bowler, angered to learn that the health fund also was involved, responded, "This was a tax levy. If this is happening in the health fund, that is wrong too. The same thing happened on the trash collection fund. Anything that is a general levied fund has to be there," Bowler contended.

After the meeting, Bowler explained that when the city approves a separate tax levy for specific reasons, such as trash collection, health insurance and workmen's compensation, the city treasurer is bound by law to put the taxes collected from the levy into that fund.

engineering work done by Svendrup & Parcel and Associates, engineers, and time devoted by city employees to setting up the program and proposed ordinance.

Additional costs estimated at $100,000 in the first year and in excess of $110,000 in the second year the program is operating also will be passed on to the industries, if the program is approved. The first year cost would include purchase of a pickup truck, samplers and meters needed to implement the program, according to Terrance McMillan, superintendent of the city's sewage treatment program and the man who will likely head up the pretreatment program.

The council was unanimous in its vote to place the pretreatment program ordinance on first reading. It was not read aloud because it is to be published in booklet form and made available to the public after its passage, which satisfies the requirements of the law regarding public notice of the new ordinance, according to City Attorney John Papa.

The ordinance will be considered for final adoption at the council's next meeting Tuesday, Oct. 27, at 8 p.m. in the township hall, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

RHODES STREET AUTO*MISHAP INJURES TWO

James G. Kukarola, 18, of 2028 Cleveland Boulevard was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 10:40 p.m. Thursday for treatment of injuries suffered when the right front of his southbound auto hit the left side of the parked car of Wanda Perkins, 1339 Rhodes St., at the Rhodes address. A passenger in his vehicle, James R. Jarrett, 18, of 1144 Rhodes received minor injuries. Kukarola had made a right turn from Iron Street and his auto went out of control on wet pavement.

AUTO BURGLARY

Jack Grieves, Collinsville, reported that between 4:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. Friday, while his car was parked in a St. Elizabeth Medical Center parking lot, it was burglarized. A garage door opener control and $100 in cash were allegedly stolen.

$132 million contract for Alton lock and dam

The largest single contract ever awarded by the St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers was signed yesterday by Colonel Robert A. Dacey, district engineer.

The contract provides for the construction of the first stage of the main dam replacing Lock and Dam No. 26 at Alton. The firm of Groves, Atkinson and Ball of Redmond, Wash., was awarded the $131,959,483 contract.

Work is expected to start within 15 days and to proceed dependent upon river and weather conditions, for approximately three years.

Groves, Atkinson and Ball will be responsible for dewatering the 25 acres inside of the cofferdam area and constructing six and one-half gateways, each 110 feet wide, which will contain the giant gates of the dam. When this stage is complete, a second cofferdam will be built in the river to contain the work area for a 1,200 foot lock.

Colonel Dacey indicated that this contract was not only the largest single Corps contract for work on the Mississippi, but also for one of the most important structures on the inland waterway.

BAC underspending its new budget, quarterly report shows

The Belleville Area College Board of Trustees has received "Page Two" — an outline of plans and goals for the college, during the coming year.

"This is the accountability for the board and the administration," BAC President Dr. Bruce Wissore said, "presenting trustees with the 109-page document."

It includes the mission statement and Fiscal Year 1981-82 goals previously adopted by the board and management plans prepared by each member of the administrative team at the college.

Also included is a calendar that outlines deadlines for each phase of planning the school. The report will be available for public review throughout the year in the BAC library.

In other action, the board received the first quarterly budget report. The reports, which will be prepared four times during the year, were instituted as another accountability measure, Dr. Wissore said.

The procedure helped administrators target any areas in their budgets where there could be problems later in the year, Dr. Wissore explained. It showed the college is where it should be after three months of the fiscal year, he added.

"This report shows we do have a very capable administration up and down the line," Board Member Avery Schermer of Granite City said. "I have seen a number of reports like this and this is probably the best quarterly report I have ever sat in on."

Dr. Wissore stressed the importance of having had input from all administrators in the process. "The important fact is a dialogue occurred," Dr. Wissore said. "We all got together and we have a much better idea of what the budget is and what we must do. This represents the kind of planning that should occur during the fiscal year."

Problems, however, were not apparent after the first quarter, according to representatives of each area of the college who presented their portions of the report. In fact, the report showed the college spending less than budgeted during the first quarter.

The board also appointed Vice-President for ## Absentee ballot deadline announced

Petitions for precinct committee members, County Board members, and county officers, now are available from the office of Evelyn Bowler, Madison county clerk.

Miss Bowler announced that persons wishing to secure petitions may do so by making the request either by phone, mail or in person. The first day for filling petitions is Dec. 7 and the last day is Dec. 14.

Miss Bowler also advised that absentee voting for the November 3 non-partisan election now is underway. Persons who expect to be absent from the county on election day may vote absentee in person or request a ballot by mail.

All applications for ballots which are mailed must be in the office of the county clerk by 5 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 29.

Persons who wish to vote in person may do so Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the office will be open from 9 a.m. until noon on Oct. 31 for the convenience of those who cannot get to the office during the regular hours.

Inquiries concerning either petitions or the absentee voting may be made directly to the county clerk's office.

member of Congress for more than 37 years.

"We're loyal to You, Illinois" was played as Cong. Price began and concluded his remarks. Price then welcomed Stevenson to the microphone.

No mention was made by anyone of Stevenson's recent loss of his seat as former Governor Daniel Walker, who is opposing Stevenson for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Stevenson does not yet have the blessing of Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne but says he is backed by 80 of the 102 county Democratic chairmen and by 17 of the 24 Democratic state central committees. He sees "downstate and the suburbs tilting the power balance" away from Chicago dominance.

About Governor James Thompson, a Republican who has some degree of popularity among Democrats and AFL-CIO members, Stevenson promised the gathering that "if he keeps on telling lies about me, I'm going to start telling the truth about him."

Introduced as a resident of Galena, he said he expects to run in the 1982 ballot and will be proud to run with the numerous Democrats seeking state, judicial, regional, county and community offices.

Stevenson declared, "It's great to be at this enthusiastic meeting of the Democracy of Madison County and to be with Mel Price, one of the finest and most decent gentlemen and one of the great figures of the U. S. Congress."

He recalled working with Cong. Price, Senator Alan Dixon and other Illinois representatives to help secure replacement of Alton Locks and Dam 26 and asserted that the fight for completion of that mammoth project "is going to have the support of the next governor."

Asserting that Illinois has "500 million unemployed, which is later corrected to 500,000, the former state representative, state treasurer and U. S. senator said Illinois has gone from economic leadership to the third worst jobless level during the past ten years due to Republican misrule.

"Employment in the United States has gained half again as much as in Illinois, where the unemployment increase has been three times the national average. Personal income and industrial development are lagging.

"Interest, inflation and recession problems are beginning to hit home in Illinois. Resources are being shifted from here and the rest of the Midwest to weapon and fuel producing states of the South.

"This state has much to be proud of, including its food, production, technological base, energy, transportation, labor pool and water resources, but there is a gap between its potential and its performance.

"One of the reasons for that gap is that our government has been inert. No state has done so little to improve its economic climate.

Stevenson recited his efforts during a winter storm disaster in 1979 to contact Gov. Thompson, learning several days later that he was "on a beach in Florida" and was not eager to return to deal with the issue. Meanwhile, the delay in requesting federal disaster aid proved costly to Illinoisans, the speaker said.

"Your next governor is going to be a full-time governor," Stevenson emphasized. "We won't let other states, like Pennsylvania, California, Massachusetts and Minnesota, get ahead of us in systematic efforts to achieve economic development."

"There are many cruel statistics to note when comparing Illinois now and ten years ago. I promise you that I'm going to our state moving again, not in ten years but in the next year with the future.

"The mission of the Democratic party is to show compassion for the poor and disadvantaged and to bring new ideas to government in each new era. We are the party of Jefferson and Roosevelt and Kennedy and Johnson. Democrats are going to resist and to stand pat."

"The Democratic party in Illinois has a proud record, and Illinoisans made the difference in electing Pres. Harry Truman in 1948 and Pres. John F. Kennedy in 1960.

"I want to lead a united Democratic party to victory in the statehouse and in courthouses throughout the state. I pledge that we will get Illinois moving again and I will go all the way in the election of 1984 to choose a Democrat for president."

Cong. Price challenged Democrats to "live up to the ideals of your party" and then to "make those ideals a reality" by restoring Democratic control to the White House and U. S. Senate.

Tracing Republican effectiveness in achieving early legislative victories and commenting that GOP policies are failing to achieve the desired results, he said, "Things are beginning to change. Americans, including the Republicans, are starting to realize that the nation is being led into a full-fledged economic recession."

Price said Republican calls to "tighten our belts" may be appropriate lest "we all lose our pants in the name of the national interest. We may need to not only tighten our belts but go out and buy suspenders before we lose our shirts, too."

"Republicans proposed 'safety net' for citizens has been shredded by their budget cutters. There is not much of a safety net for children who cannot afford school lunches, or the elderly who are facing severe cuts in Social Security and medical funds, or the handicapped when educational programs are being cut back."

Sen. Vadalaene cited Pres. Kennedy's call at his 1961 inauguration for people to "not want what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." He called on Democrats to rededicate themselves to the concept that "God's work needs to be done by each of us."

Sen. Buzbee criticized Gov. Thompson for being "unable to find anything for the lieutenant governor to do" and that the Democrats for leadership—despite a series of economic and other setbacks suffered by the state.

The headline called Madison County Democratic Chairman Costoff "a great Illinoisan and a great American" and urged that the party rally behind Governor Stevenson "for a sweep of state offices in 1982."

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles led the audience in singing "God Bless America."

Several circuit judges circulated nominating petitions for signatures during the evening, and judges and lawyers were well represented in a booklet published in conjunction with the annual dinner dance.

Costoff's message in the booklet thanked all friends and associates who have shown "support and loyalty to our Democratic principles. It is a great honor for me to have your good will and confidence as chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee. I look with hope and pleasure to represent all the people all of the time; with your support, that will be accomplished."

The late Pres. Kennedy was quoted on the cover of the booklet: "Each generation builds a road for the next. The road has been built for us, and I believe it incumbent upon us, on our generation, to build our roads for the next generation."

of the Press-Record

State Senator Sam Vadalaene, who will run against Vadalaene in the March 1982 primary election, has changed his mind about ERA from last year.

Along with other political leaders and members of the judiciary, the three individuals mentioned were among the 75 persons who attended last week's "Legislation Night" dinner of the Granite City Business and Professional Women at Charlie's Restaurant.

Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Ray Bowler kept the program moving as master of ceremonies. He was introduced by Ruth Nicholas, BPW legislation and dinner chairman.

Principal speaker was Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen, who discussed current statutes which affect women and proposed some changes that could strengthen certain laws.

Primarily involved in criminal cases for the past three years, Mrs. Jensen's earlier assignments concerned family disputes and problems involving mentally ill persons, she explained.

"She described procedures used within the state's attorney's office and judicial system, procedures which result in lengthy delays, frequently to ensure a defendant's rights are not violated."

"In many rape and sexual assault cases to which she is assigned, the victim is a minor, scratches or other signs of physical abuse on a victim presents difficulty in prosecuting the alleged rapist, Mrs. Jensen said.

"On the other hand, she commented, most law enforcement agencies today are telling women they should not resist in a rape situation, thereby avoiding further injury to themselves. A change in the law to read rape by force or threat of force could help gain a conviction in many cases."

The attorney said changes also are needed in the law to deal with cases of rape or sexual abuse of a wife by her husband.

"At the present time, such changes usually are reduced to the lesser degree of unlawful restraint or battery," she said.

"The present time, such changes usually are reduced to the lesser degree of unlawful restraint or battery," she said.

Child abduction, usually committed by a former husband, is another tough area to prosecute.

This type of crime, however, can never be prosecuted as a Class 1 felony offense, if the child is removed from the state.

"Should a 'snatched' child be returned within 72 hours to a court official or a legal guardian, legal action normally is not taken against the abductor, she explained.

The lawyer advised those present that a recently enacted statute will allow Illinois residents to carry Mace, a non-lethal chemical spray used in a personal protective device, effective Jan. 1, 1982.

Mrs. Jensen's husband, Keith, also is an attorney in the Madison County State's Attorney's Office. They are the parents of Melissa, 2 years old.

"It would be nice for all of us if I could tell you exactly what you want to hear, because I am going to be honest," Senator Vadalaene warned the audience.

"On such subjects as the Equal Rights Amendment and abortion I have taken strong and consistent positions in good conscience, I cannot back down on these positions now."

"But there are other urgent matters of concern to all of us. In most cases, I think we can find ourselves in agreement, even if we disagree on the best means to achieve our goals."

Senator Vadalaene continued, "I am deeply committed to parity of pay for women in the marketplace. To me that is a matter of plain fairness and decency."

"The contributions made by women to the growth and prosperity of our society have not been properly recognized."

"Recently I commissioned a survey—the cost of which I paid for personally—of legislation affecting the interests of women which has been passed since 1967."

"It comprises 110 tightly packed pages and in looking back on it I can see laws that have done a great deal to secure for women their rightful places in society."

Senator Vadalaene said, "If we went through this (survey) bill by bill I would venture to say in the vast majority of cases we would be today would agree with the law I voted."

"Our suffragist forefathers overcame great difficulties in the suffrage campaign. At a time when only men could vote, they succeeded in bringing about the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution, thereby anchoring in the constitution the right of women to vote."

"Then we forgot some of the hard work we learned in the suffrage campaign and it was militancy not expertise that forced Congress to finally debate and pass the Equal Rights Amendment, Mrs. Mendoza said.

position that is certainly not satisfactory to many of you, the overall experience has been educational and enlightening to me. I may not have learned enough to satisfy all of you, but I have learned a lot."

Senator Vadalaene concluded, "My approach has always been to make laws that produce tangible benefits, while shying away from catch-all solutions that just might raise more problems than they solve."

"I will always listen carefully to what you have to say and I will try to serve the best interests of all persons in our society."

After Senator Vadalaene's remarks, Alderman Bowler introduced other special guests, including:

State Rep. Sam Wolf, Granite City; State Rep. Celeste Stiehl, Belleville; Judge Charles Chapman, Judge William Johnson, Judge Phillip Arrick, Anneten Smith, Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women president-elect, Madison County Sheriff Emil Tofant, Major Fred Bright of the sheriff's department.

County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus, County Auditor Pete Fields, City Clerk Robert Stevens, City Treasurer Nick Pettillo, Deputy City Clerk Charlotte Shure, City Attorney Irvin Slate Jr., Sixth Ward Alderman Steve Salich, Deputy County Clerk Debbie O'Beir, Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff.

Mrs. Manning, candidate for the office of state senator, Fred Painter, candidate for the office of county treasurer, and Valerie Stevens, candidate for the Granite City Board of Education in the Nov. 3 election, whose candidacy was endorsed by the BPW club during a business session the same night.

The primary objective of the National Business and Professional Women and its state and local units, it was noted.

Norma Mendoza of Granite City, state legislation chairman of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was introduced and responded to Senator Vadalaene's earlier remarks.

"During the struggles of the last 60 years or so, women have been becoming more and more political," Mrs. Mendoza said.

"Our suffragist forefathers overcame great difficulties in the suffrage campaign. At a time when only men could vote, they succeeded in bringing about the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution, thereby anchoring in the constitution the right of women to vote."

"Then we forgot some of the hard work we learned in the suffrage campaign and it was militancy not expertise that forced Congress to finally debate and pass the Equal Rights Amendment, Mrs. Mendoza said.

"Most state legislatures saw the Equal Rights Amendment as the right thing to do and 34 states ratified it rapidly. By 1977, the 35th state had ratified the ERA," she stated.

"Then opponents of ERA, fearful of the consequences of having to pay women equally, instead of 59 cents on the dollar, began to react."

"Since 1977, not another state has ratified the amendment. But the struggle of the past five or six years has involved more women politically than any issue in history."

"But be assured, we have learned our lessons well and we will never return to the political naivete of the past," the BPW state officer said.

"In November 1980 for the first time in history there was a measurable difference in the way women voted and the way men voted."

"That difference amounted to one million votes. In a closer election those votes could swing an election one way or the other."

"Women voted differently for two reasons—peace versus war and equality versus discrimination. All the major polls taken recently show the gap between the way women vote and the way men vote is widening."

"Women are becoming more and more concerned about the dismantling of civil rights programs that have aided women."

"The pollsters are now saying that the party that wins in 1982 will be the party that answers the needs of women."

"We are giving you fair warning—stop the dismantling of programs designed to help women and ratify the Equal Rights Amendment," Mrs. Mendoza emphasized.

State senate candidate Mike Manning also spoke briefly, commenting he had changed his thinking within the past year about ratification of ERA.

"After talking with hundreds of women in this area and around the state about their lack of rights as equals, as well as discussing this dismantling of programs designed to help women and ratify the Equal Rights Amendment," Mrs. Mendoza said.

Q. I think there is a simple answer to my question but I want to make certain. I plan to remarry in a month and, of course, will change my surname. Under my present name, have an excellent credit record and want to protect it. How can I go about this?

A. Whether your credit rating is in your name alone or you and your previous husband's, there should be no problem. The best procedure is to write each company with whom you have established credit. Tell them you want to continue the account but the name should be changed. Also, contact your local credit bureau to update their records. This is the same procedure to use for a woman marrying for the first time and who has no ready established credit in her maiden name. Your creditors should also be notified of the change. Significant change of information such as change of mailing address, etc.

Big order at American Steel

State Senator Sam Vadalaene and State Representative Sam Wolf of this district have received word of a major order placed at the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Joseph R. Bateman Jr., public affairs manager of the Norfolk and Western Railway Co., said N&W has placed an order with ASF for various finished steel products which will be manufactured in Granite City at an estimated cost of $1,100,000 and will be used in the construction of 2,167 open-top hopper coal cars.

"Norfolk and Western is pleased that it can be a partner in helping to maintain steady employment and in stimulating economic activity in the Granite City area."

The local American Steel Foundries plant will reopen next Monday, Nov. 2, after a temporary shutdown associated with the level of railroad product orders.

Balen new special education director

Steven M. Balen has assumed the duties of director of the Regional Special Education District, which includes the three school systems of the Quad-Cities.

Balen replaced Larry R. Dew who accepted a position in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The special education district works in the areas of speech therapy, mentally retarded, learning disabilities, physically handicapped and emotionally disturbed children.

Balen has already visited the Madison and Granite City school boards and will be visiting the Venice board in the near future.

"I believe in a common sense approach to all things and special education seems complicated to a lot of persons everywhere."

"Special education needs to be thought of less as an emotional issue and more as an education fact."

"Today, no skills, no jobs. Our children have to have training. We need to work hard at preparing the children to become contributing members of our society," Balen said.

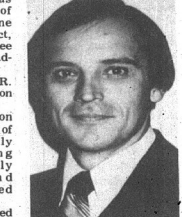

Balen and his wife Gwen have a 10-year-old daughter Jennifer.

He graduated from Littlefield Community High School in 1965, earning a bachelor's degree in Speech and Pathology and Audiology in January 1970 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE), completed a masters degree in 1975 in the same fields.

He returned to SIUE to gain additional certification in Special Education and Administration.

Balen currently holds certification in speech pathology and audiology, learning disabilities, socially-emotionally maladjusted children screening and administration.

"I became interested in working with exceptional children in speech therapy in high school. My subsequent work in speech and language in the public school system has brought me in contact with a wide range of handicapped children."

major aspect in the education of exceptional children is generated by the administrator.

"One goal which I would set for myself, and those who are interested in special education, is to establish better cooperation and understanding with educators and administrators who are generally considered to be dealing directly with handicapped children," Balen said.

TV con game sale Saturday

Three men from Missouri are being held in the Granite City jail pending the posting of $5,000 bond for each of them, charged with soliciting without a license. They were arrested at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

The three men are John Thomas, 35, and Jimmy Standford, 35, both from St. Louis and both needing $5 cash bond, and Willie Rivers, 25, Jennings, Mo., whose bond is $375. Rivers also is being held for Collinsville police on traffic warrants which specify a $5,000 bond.

The three men were arrested in the shopping center for allegedly trying to sell what they said new television sets. They were being held to sell them from an auto they were driving, police alleged.

The problem was that the television sets, in boxes, were being sold in boxes and had no working parts. Police allegedly found three of the gutted televisions in the trunk of the auto.

"Our suffragist forefathers overcame great difficulties in the suffrage campaign. At a time when only men could vote, they succeeded in bringing about the ratification of the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution, thereby anchoring in the constitution the right of women to vote."

"Then we forgot some of the hard work we learned in the suffrage campaign and it was militancy not expertise that forced Congress to finally debate and pass the Equal Rights Amendment, Mrs. Mendoza said.

"Most state legislatures saw the Equal Rights Amendment as the right thing to do and 34 states ratified it rapidly. By 1977, the 35th state had ratified the ERA," she stated.

"Then opponents of ERA, fearful of the consequences of having to pay women equally, instead of 59 cents on the dollar, began to

Police testing in GC Nov. 14

Persons interested in becoming probationary Granite City policemen may take the written police eligibility test, Saturday, Nov. 14, at Granite City High School South.

Applications to take the test are available at the office of the chief of police, 2330 Madison Ave. Applications must be picked up no later than Nov. 1 to qualify to take the test.

Agility tests and interviews will be given to those who score highest on the written test. Requirements for becoming a policeman may be obtained by calling the chief's office at 451-9760.

DENTAL EDUCATION HEARING. State Sen.

Education, from the left: Merle R. Yontz, Peoria; Richard P. Stone, Springfield; John W. Huther of the IBHE staff; Diego Redondo, Deerfield, chairman of the committee; Gaylord Donnelly, Libertyville; Richard Hart, Benton; and William Harris, Pontiac. A seventh member of the committee, James M. Unland, Pekin, was unable to be present.

Women voters sponsor meeting on funding

The League of Women Voters of St. Clair County, with the cooperation of the United Way of Greater St.

Louis, will present a conference to address the needs of non-profit volunteer groups in the Metro East area on Nov. 14, at Belleville Area College. The Conference On Volunteer Effectiveness (COVE) is designed to develop management effectiveness, encourage volunteerism, eliminate duplicate efforts, and to establish the groundwork for a council of community organizations on the Metro East side.

Pre-registration for the Saturday conference will be taken until Nov. 9. The cost is $6.50 which includes a buffet meal. Registration will be from 8 to 9:30 for the conference, which is scheduled to conclude at 3:30.

Seven workshops, led by qualified community leaders from the metropolitan area, will be conducted on the topics of "Finance & Fundraising," "Assessing the Community," "Communicating With Members," "Leadership & Management," "Public Relations," "The Role of the Individual," and "Networking with Other Organizations."

In addition to the workshops, a display area will be provided for area organizations and agencies to set up information tables about their programs.

County budget session Nov. 2

The Madison County Board will hold an informal meeting Monday, Nov. 2, to discuss its 1982 proposed budget with its finance committee.

The meeting, set for 7 p.m., was announced at the board's regular meeting last week. The board also approved the finance committee's request to change next month's board meeting from Nov. 18 to Nov. 25.

Finance Chairman William Little said the extra week will be used by the finance committee to finish work on the budget.

The board voted to extend its agreement with Price Waterhouse for outside auditing services an extra year, at a cost of $21,000.

The county had planned to contract with an auditing firm for a three-year period before the beginning of the new fiscal year. However, the county was not able to bring in prospective firms before the new budget goes into effect.

The board approved a $5 increase in traffic violation fines, and proceeds from the increase will be earmarked for the court system.

The board also approved sale of 180 mechanical voting machines to Reliable Election Services for $30,000.

The county now uses computer punch cards instead of the larger voting machines.

Hart, Big Red stop Minnesota's streak

By TERESA GULL

ST. LOUIS — The Big Red is back. At least yesterday they were.

Led by quarterback Jim Hart and his 20th career touchdown pass, the St. Louis football Cardinals soundly defeated the Minnesota Vikings at Busch stadium here 30-17.

Offense. Defense. Special teams. All three did their part in stopping Minnesota's winning streak at five games. The Cardinal locker room was surprisingly quiet following the victory. Nobody yelled. Nobody screamed. Everybody spoke in quiet, hushed tones.

"I'm so proud of them because they played a heck of a defensive game," said Cardinal head coach Jim Hanifan.

The Cardinal defense did what it knew it would have to do — contain the Vikings' passing attack. Viking quarterback Tommy Kramer finished the game 25 out of 33 attempts for 343 yards, but he gained only 186 of those yards in the first half. He was also whistled for intentional grounding twice in the first half, a credit to the hustling Big Red defensive line.

Cornerback Tim Collier gave the defensive line as much credit for stopping Minnesota's passing game as he gave the defensive backs.

"We knew they could throw the ball real well," Collier said. "The defensive linemen did a good job of pressuring. Even though they didn't sack him a lot, they did a good job of pressuring him and hurrying his throws."

The Cardinals picked up an early 13-0 first quarter lead — a lead they never relinquished.

"Against a team like this, their potential for scoring points is so great," Hart said. "If you get off ahead and make them play catch-up, it's more psychological for you. It may make them start doubting it all a little bit."

Sitting in front of his locker, Hart modestly and quietly accepted compliment after compliment for his 20th touchdown passing feat. He let his emotions fly during the game however.

After throwing the eight yard touchdown pass to Mel Gray in the fourth quarter, Hart ran into the endzone and hugged Gray. He then trotted over to the sidelines and accepted the ball from the official, the crowd giving him a standing ovation.

"It's just great. Obviously it's something almost indescribable. Obviously the win makes it better," Hart said. "If we hadn't won when I reached that milestone, it's shallow. It doesn't mean as much when you don't win."

Not only did that touchdown pass give the Cardinals a comfortable 27-10 lead, but the drive also ate up 10:35 of the clock, leaving only 5:29 left in the game.

"That couldn't have been done without some good blocking by the offensive line," Hart said.

The Big Red offensive line was effective. Hart was sacked only once. "It was a little sporadic at times but by and large, I thought it was pretty good," tackle Dan Dierdorf said. "We knew if we would give Jim some time, he could find people open in the secondary."

Effective defense. Effective offense. But it was the play of the Cardinal specialty team in the third quarter which clinched the victory. The Cardinals were holding onto a slim 13-10 lead and Minnesota's drive had stalled on their own 39 yard line. They needed one yard for the first down.

The Minnesota punting unit came in, but faked the punt. The Cardinals forced a bad snap and Minnesota lost three yards on the play and turned the ball over on downs.

Five plays later, Wayne Morris scored on a 13 yard sweep, wrapping up the victory for the Cards.

With the victory, the Cardinals are three out of four at home but winless on the road. None of the Cardinals know why.

"I suppose it's psychological. I don't think it's physical," Hart said. "If we're good enough to beat Dallas and we're good enough to beat Minnesota, then we're good enough to have beaten everybody we've played. How can they say it was a fluke?"

Dierdorf was equally lost for an explanation. "I never gave it a lot of thought," Dierdorf said. "We have played well at home against good teams."

"I just hope we can gain some more confidence with a big win like this." "Playing good against the good teams and bad against the bad teams," said Hart. "That's been the story since I've been here (16 seasons). I don't know how to escape it. It really doesn't make any sense."

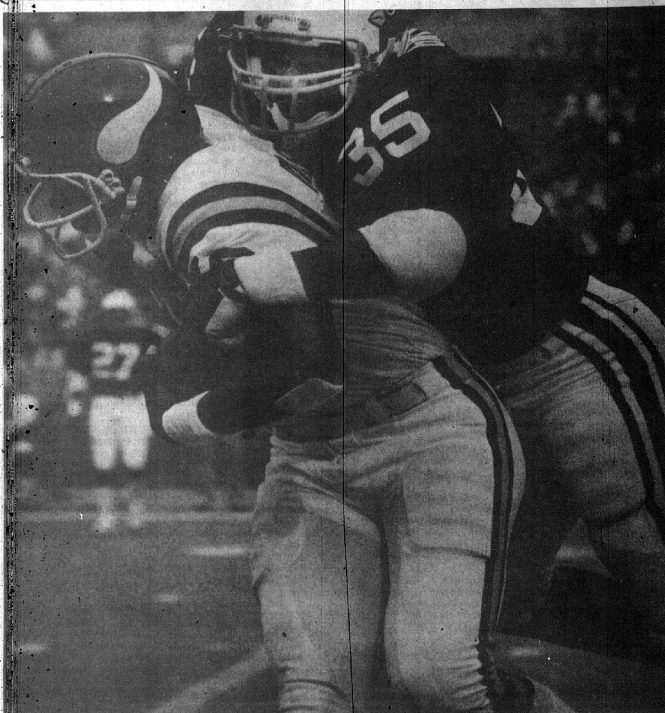

Perhaps the turning point of the game came in the third quarter, the Vikings were faced with a critical fourth down and one yard to go situation. With punter Greg Coleman in deep formation, the ball was instead snapped to upback Jeff Sieman on a fake punt. Sieman, however, mishandled the snap and fumbled the ball. Coleman, standing away from the play, picked up the ball when it squirted free, and appeared to pick up the first down. However, officials ruled that in that particular situation, only the designated ball carrier (Sieman) could advance the ball. The possession went over to the Cardinals on the Minnesota 36 yard line.

Four plays later, Wayne Morris swept around left end for a 13-yard touchdown run making the score 20-10. "That was a big play," said Hanifan of the fourth down fumble by Minnesota. "It set us up in good field position and put Minnesota in a difficult situation."

On the touchdown by Morris, wide receivers Gray and Pat Tilley took the defense out of the way with their pass routes. Minnesota was blitzing on the play, but a key block by running back Willard Harrell took Minnesota safely. Knott out of the play. "We were expecting them (the Vikings) to be blitzing on the play," said Hart. But as things turned out, it worked perfectly. Afterward, Pat Tilley said he was laughing all the way into the end zone when he was able to turn around and watch the whole play.

"The thing I liked was that when Minnesota moved the ball against us, we didn't panic." "We proved we can beat the good teams," said Morris. "And we can be a good team, that makes us a good team."

Steelers dump Lake Forest in finale

By ROGER KRAMER

GRANITE CITY — Lake Forest High School soccer coach Ed Kositzki was convinced two years ago that Granite City North had a better soccer team than Granite City South, even though the Warriors won the state championship those two years.

The Steelers' 3-0 victory over Lake Forest in the regular season finale for both teams Saturday further convinced Kositzki of North's talents.

"Granite City North is the best team we've played this year," Kositzki said. "They're just better on a man-to-man basis than any team we've played. I don't think anybody up north could beat them."

Kositzki's assessment should not be taken lightly. Lake Forest, a honorable mention selection in the Chicago Sting state soccer poll last week and 13-1 for the season, tied second-ranked New Trier 5-5 and lost to fourth-ranked Glenbrook North 2-0.

"I've liked North for the last two years and I think they were a better team than South those two years. South had the momentum from those previous state championships, but they weren't as impressive as North," Kositzki said.

"It's the best team we've seen all year. This was the only game this season we have really been out of," Kositzki said.

North coach Bob Kehoe is still cautious about predicting big things for the Steelers despite Kositzki's praise. "I can't say if we're one of the best teams in the state or not," Kehoe said. "We're a good team, but we lack a little consistency. We did play very well today, but in all fairness, you have to say we played bad games against Alhough, East, Cahokia and Pattonville. We started slowly today. And it looked like we were going to play one of these games again, but we got things rushing and things started going our way," Kehoe said.

Indeed, things did start slowly offensively for the Steelers. North did not take a shot on goal in the first period, but the defense allowed Lake Forest to take just one shot in the quarter. That defensive stinginess set the pattern for the rest of the game.

The Steelers attacked more often in the second quarter, mostly because they had control of the ball. With 5:04 left in the period, Benny Nolan passed to Tim Dean who scored North's first goal from 10 yards out.

North again kept the ball in its offensive zone in the third quarter. Forward Paul Barrington stopped a deflection off a Lake Forest back, and scored with 2:36 left in the period. North added an insurance goal in the fourth period. Kendall Whittington passed from the left side of the goal to Nolan, who was positioned in front of the goal. Nolan moved in for the attack and scored with less than 15 minutes left in the game.

The Steeler defense made sure Lake

Forest didn't have any chances to catch up. Lake Forest managed only three shots on goal for the entire game and had only one corner kick.

"It was a good game for the defense. In fact it was a good game for everyone," Kehoe said. "The whole team carried us. We had good control of midfield and the backfield."

"We didn't give them anything to aim for," Kehoe said.

"We couldn't work the ball to our all state fullback Steve Milke," Kositzki lamented. "We haven't run into a man-to-man defense in a long time, and we couldn't break it. Even our dummy runs didn't work. There was no room to run into, and we couldn't run behind them."

"They used short passes well, and they played as a team offensively. There was no weak link, and everybody played well," Kositzki said.

The North defense played with so much intensity that goalie Rich

South subs cruise past Hounds

Special to the Press-Record

LEBANON — It was a heyday for the substitutes here Saturday in Grady City South's 2-0 victory over Lebanon. In the season finale for both teams, Warriors coach Gene Baker used a host of underclassmen, including freshmen, against the Greyhounds.

The easy victory leaves South with a 13-5 record heading into Thursday's sub-sectional matchup with Madison at 3 p.m. at The Gauntlet. Madison was to have played East St. Louis Assumption Tuesday in a first round game. But Assumption has been forced to forfeit the game. The Pioneers have lost several players during the season and have replaced some of them with girls. Since girls are not allowed to play in the IHSA post-season playoffs, Assumption will forfeit. Without the girls, it does not have enough players to make up a full team.

Against Lebanon Saturday, Baker got a chance to rest his regulars. "It gave us a chance to give them a day off and get some practice time in. We've needed all the practice we can get. With the way our schedule has worked out this season, we've had several weeks during which we played four games.

That doesn't give much of a chance to get in any practice time."

The game was originally scheduled to be the season-opener for both teams. However, because of the Granite City teachers' strike, it was re-scheduled for the final game of the campaign. "That's too bad," said Baker. "This is the type of game you want to have early in the season. It doesn't really do us that much good in preparing for the playoffs."

The sub-sectionals begin Tuesday around the state. In the latest statewide Chicago Sting Prep Soccer Poll, Granite City South is ranked number one — a position it has held all season. South got two unassisted goals against Lebanon. The first was scored by Barry Groie at the 4:16 mark of the first quarter. The second was scored by Billy Angsey at the 33:20 mark of the second quarter.

"I was pretty satisfied with the way the subs played," said Baker. "It was a game we had to get out of the way. We were able to get a lot of people in early and save any possible injuries. It gave us a chance to work on a lot of different situations."

South outshot the Greyhounds 31-5 and had the edge in corner kicks, 7-0.

Althoff beats Edwardsville

Steelers crush Cahokia, set showdown

CLOSING IN. Granite City North's Allen Pregel (22) moves in on Cahokia quarterback David Maddison in Friday's Gateway East

Conference game at Cahokia. The North Steelers used a crushing defense to move out to an easy 30-0 victory. (Photo by Roger Kramer)

North proud of defense

Granite City North's football team is always among the top defensive squads in the area. And this year is no exception.

It's a good thing the Steelers are playing good defense. While the offense is scoring an average of 18.57 points of game after North's 33-0 win over Cahokia Friday, the defense is giving up just an average of 7.15 points a game.

Meanwhile, the Steelers have intercepted 17 passes this season, the best in the Metro-East area, and have recovered eight fumbles. In the quarterback sack, fumble recovery and interception departments, the Steelers have three people among the leaders in each category.

The Steelers also have the knack of shutting down top rushers. Stacey Blackmon of Cahokia, the top rusher in the Metro-East area last week, was held to only 18 net yards by the defense. Why is North one of the top deensive teams? Steelers coach Tom Wyrostek answered, "We're always strong defensively, and we pride ourselves on that. We plan on playing strong defense every year."

One of the mainstays of the Steelers defense is from the Wyrostek household, Jim Wyrostek, a senior linebacker, sacked the quarterback four times prior to Friday's game and has three interceptions.

Both Todd George, a senior, and Marty Steinmeier, a junior, have three sacks each. Brad Watson has two fumble recoveries and three interceptions. Carl Luehmann has five interceptions for the season, and Joe Price recovered two fumbles against Cahokia.

Darren DeFew and Scott Corey both have a fumble recovery each, which placed them on last week's list. "We're a defensive ball club," Wyrostek said. "And we're a ball control club."

The Steelers also rely on most of these players to go offensively. For instance, Luehmann is the starting quarterback. Watson is North's split end, and DeFew is a running back, punter and place kicker in addition to being a top linebacker.

"It's seems like we rest offensively," Wyrostek said. The offense scores most of its touchdowns in the first half, forcing the defense to hold the lead.

It's worked just about every time. The one team that spoiled the pattern was Edwardsville. North's opponent Friday in a game that could clinch the title for the Tigers. A week ago, Edwardsville edged North in overtime. But after the Tigers lost to Althoff Friday, they found themselves in a virtual tie for the top spot with North.

yards for North's final touchdown with 34 seconds left in the first half.

Why was North's defense so effective? "We had a lot of respect for their fullback (Larry Thompson) because he's hard to tackle at the line, and we didn't want to try to tackle him in the open field," Wyrostek said.

"We put a lot of pressure on him and the quarterback so he wouldn't get the ball. We did a good job of that," Wyrostek said.

It was easy for Taylor to find words for his team's attack. "It was absolutely the worst football we've played in two years. I'm not taking anything away from North, but we played like we had our heads between our legs."

"We weren't ready to play football. No one was saying anything to get us going. We were just here," Taylor said. Even though the scoreboard said the Steelers won, the stats indicated Cahokia played the best offense. The Comanches gained 153 total yards compared to 125 for North.

"Dadgum, we have to play offense as hard as we do defense, but it's hard to play well both ways when a lot of your key people are playing both offense and defense. We're not able to get up enough offense. It seems like we take our rest when we play offense," Wyrostek said.

The Steelers only gained two first downs in the second half. Both of those didn't come until the next to last series of the game. North only gained 23 yards rushing in the second half and 26 yards passing.

"Sure I was concerned with the way we played in the second half," Wyrostek said. "Althoff was beating Cahokia 30-7 and Cahokia came back to 37-30 and had a chance to win it in the last minutes. Cahokia's playing a lot of good football."

The Steelers also kept their first string defense in for most of the game. Taylor didn't blame North for keeping the starters in the game either.

"They have a chance to go to the playoffs, and if they didn't shut us out, it could have cost them a chance to go to the playoffs."

North travels to Edwardsville Friday for a critical Gateway East game. North, 5-2 overall and 3-1 in the conference, must beat Edwardsville to have a chance to go to the playoffs.

"It's just us and Edwardsville now," Wyrostek said.

Cahokia is 3-4 overall and 1-3 in the GEC. The Comanches close the season with Edwardsville at Cahokia Nov. 6.

Hannibal over South

HANNIBAL, Mo. — Granite City South's bid for an upset victory here Friday night was squelched by Hannibal High School, 25-15 in a non-conference game.

South, which dropped to 0-7 on the season, jumped to a 15-7 lead and held onto a 15-14 margin at halftime. But it could have been more. A sure touchdown pass from South quarterback late in the first half was dropped. "That could have turned the whole complexion of the game around," said South assistant coach Nick Petrillo.

"We felt we could have beaten them," Petrillo said. Hannibal, ranked eighth in the latest Missouri large school football poll, came back in the second half with eight points in the third quarter and a field goal in the fourth.

All of South's scoring came in the second quarter after Hannibal had taken a 7-0 lead in the first period. Tim Phelps scored on a four-yard run and Rick Daily kicked the extra point to tie the game. The Warriors took the lead later in the quarter when Joe Schneke caught a 35-yard touchdown pass from Linhart. Phelps ran in the two-point conversion.

Linhart was 13-of-25 for 153 yards passing. South forced Hannibal into three turnovers. Schneke and Tom Admittis each intercepted a pass and Paul Hitchcock recovered a fumble.

Dupo outscores Madison 48-38

By TERESA GULL
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Both Madison head coach Al Vonderhaar and Dupo head coach Gary Mauser agreed Friday night's game wasn't much of a defensive battle.

The 48-38 score, with home team Dupo on the winning end, was definitely an indication to both coaches that their teams had one thing on their minds - scoring touchdowns.

"Thirty-eight points is sure an awful lot of points to score," Vonderhaar said. "A lot of things we did well."

One thing they didn't execute well, however, was their defensive containment of Dupo. "Our kids were so intent on doing one thing," Vonderhaar said. "We just didn't make adjustments quick enough."

Dupo's first and second touchdowns of the game supported Vonderhaar's claim. Dupo scored on a 66 yard touchdown pass from sophomore quarterback Jim Jarvis to halfback J.D. Groves at the 9:12 mark.

Four minutes later, the duo teamed up again, this time for a 42 yard touchdown pass.

Dupo wasn't exactly a quick learner either. In between Dupo's two scores, Madison marched 66 yards in eight plays for a touchdown. Willie Ball ran 15 yards, breaking tackles, for the score.

After Dupo's second score, Ball scored again, this time on a 24 yard run at the 2:46 mark of the first quarter.

During the second quarter, both teams settled down somewhat defensively. Dupo's only score was set up on a interception on Madison's 39 yard line. Five plays later, at the 4:40 mark, Jarvis found Terry Baumgartner alone in the endzone for the touchdown, giving Dupo a 21-16 lead at half-time.

The third quarter was disastrous for Madison. Dupo scored 21 points and held Madison scoreless.

Groves scored two of the touchdowns on four and 20 yard runs. The other score came on a 28 yard run by Terry McLean.

The first half we just weren't ready. There was no intensity, no concentration," Mauser said. "The third quarter we did what we wanted."

Much of Dupo's success during the third quarter was attributable to their ability to stop the running of Ball. During the first half, he had 115 yards on the ground. In the third quarter, however, Dupo held him to a mere 21 yards.

"Willie can do a good job," Vonderhaar said. "He tried to get fancy. He was doing all these moves and going sideways behind the line instead of going forward."

Ball finished the game with 163 yards on 28 carries and 35 yards on four touchdowns.

Dupo's Groves had his eyes on the endzone as much as Ball did, also scoring four touchdowns. He rushed 19 times for 106 yards and had two receptions for 108 yards.

However, Madison didn't quit after their disastrous third quarter.

"We could have died with the score 42-16," Vonderhaar said. "We could have easily buried out head in the sand and said forget about it."

Instead, Madison came back and scored 22 points in the fourth quarter. Ball scored on a six yard sweep at the 10:37 mark and three minutes later, Richard Butler scored on a four yard run, making the score a respectable 42-30.

Branding even took a Lake Forest shot in the face to preserve a shutout.

"Rich made a great stop on that shot. I know that had to hurt because the cold, made such a hit hurt worse than it usually does," Kehoe said.

"As usual, our defense played a strong game, (Steve) Tritsch played an exceptional game. Our front line, especially Benny Nolan was attacking well. Nolan is a pesky little guy on the front line," Kehoe said. "In the mid-field, Eric Maas was the player who got us going. The halfbacks had specific jobs to do because of the wind, and they did the jobs."

Kehoe expected Lake Forest to provide a tougher game than it did. "To be honest, I thought Lake Forest wasn't as strong as I thought they would be. I don't mean to say they were bad, but they weren't as tough as we expected them to be."

NOTES: North, 13-1-6 for the season, hosts Cahokia Thursday at 3 p.m. in a first round game in the IHSA post-season sub-sectionals. The finals of the sub-sectionals are scheduled for Saturday. The winner of the North-Cahokia game will face the winner of Granite City South vs. either East St. Louis Assumption or Madison, also at 3 p.m. Thursday, for the title Saturday. If it's South, the game will be at South.

"The win definitely is a boost for us," Kehoe said. "If we would advance up north, we have somewhat of an idea what our competition will be. One team does not indicate how all the north teams play though."

Vadalabene shocked by attack on dental school

Following is last week's statement by Senator Sam M. Vadalabene to the Dental Education Committee of the Illinois Board of Higher Education regarding the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine:

As senator in the region served by the SIUE School of Dental Medicine, I am pleased to welcome you to Alton. As you look at the facilities of the school here and in East St. Louis, you will find much to inspire and edify you.

It is my firm conviction that you should come to the conclusion that funding should be recommended for new clinical facilities in the scaled-down amount of $9 million and that drastic changes in dental education in Illinois, if any, are located elsewhere.

Let me confess I was surprised when the Board of Higher Education took the approach expressed in your committee's charge.

I have been closely in touch with health education planning by the IBHE since 1968, when I was serving in the House. Since I became a senator, I have directly participated in the entire developmental process of the School of Dental Medicine in Alton.

Frankly, I was shocked to see the phrases, "alternatives to the regionalization of dental education" and "the economic and educational justification for the dental school of SIUE."

It appears to me that the IBHE is moving toward a complete U-turn from earlier planning documents and studies determining the urgent and unqualified need for a school of dental medicine in this part of the state.

As one who has devoted so much energy and attention to the School of Dental Medicine in Alton, I am proud that this school is going to be the focus of your attention.

Over a decade of careful labor has gone into the establishment of this School, and there are already many achievements of which it can be proud.

I can think of few educational facilities in Illinois, dental or otherwise, which have moved so rapidly to fulfill the letter and spirit of their mission.

It has simply become indispensable. I doubt seriously if any amount of evidence can be assembled to change my convictions on this score.

If this committee's report and the IBHE in general are to retain credibility in the legislature my experience would urge you to set fair standards of close scrutiny and apply them to all institutions receiving public support.

In looking at the other schools in this state, all of which are clustered far north of Springfield, you must use as close an eye as you are giving to the School of Dental Medicine in Alton.

By saying this, I don't intend to reflect negatively on the integrity of this body. But I must tell you that a number of my constituents, all of whom are outside SIUE and the SIU system, look on your charge as a stacked deck.

They think the deck is stacked against the School of Dental Medicine here. It is in your paramount interest—and the state's—to ensure that your report effectively dispels any such beliefs.

During the testimony you will hear, I am sure there will be many facts and figures set forth. Personally, I care about the entire structure of state-supported higher education in Illinois is based upon a "system of systems," which was designed in large measures by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Each university in the system of systems—with the possible exception of the University of Illinois at Champaign—has an overriding regional dimension to its mission.

That is the way higher education works in Illinois. The region you are visiting has been drastically underserved in the past. The School of Dental Medicine has done much to rectify previous inequities in the availability of professionally licensed practitioners in both the urban and rural areas.

Graduates of our School of Dental Medicine (SDM) are serving where they are needed, in response to needs brought to light by the IBHE.

Since 1975, by far the majority of the graduates of the SDM in Alton have located practices in the central and southern parts of the state.

In addition, the process of training involves the presence of clinic services in East St. Louis and Alton, as well as the provision of vital services to many of our hospitals through articulation agreements.

Going beyond the fact that the SDM, in Alton, has economic impact of at least $16 million per year to this area, let's consider what it means to a youngster in East St. Louis or Wood River, or a farming town north, south or east, to see a dentist early in life. Our young people need the knowledge and habits making for sound dental hygiene.

You know better than I do the importance of learning tooth-cleaning techniques at the early stage to insure healthy teeth and gums throughout life.

Think about somebody with an abscess having to drive over 50 miles in acute pain because the dentist serving the town five or ten miles away has retired or passed away and has not been replaced by someone with a commitment to local family practice.

During the past 13 years, I have fought hard to secure funding to develop a first-class dental school to serve this region.

The state has a substantial—and wise—investment, because SIU has put this money to good use.

Is it possible that other dental schools are a little bit jealous because more of our graduates pass their licensing tests?

Could the great dental schools of the north be a little bit embarrassed because the School of Dental Medicine in Alton has come so far so fast?

These are the kinds of questions you might be addressing.

Also, hope you will come in contact with some of the 4,000 patients now on active status at our clinics, especially in East St. Louis. Without these facilities open at all times for emergency treatment, where would care be found?

Many of our elderly citizens no longer have their original teeth and have suffered intense pain during their lives because a dentist was not available at a reasonably convenient distance.

If meeting the needs of ordinary people means "regionalization," then I say let's have more of it. If responding to our long-neglected needs according to the highest standards of excellence does not justify the existence of the SDM in Alton, then I don't know what would.

All I know for sure is that there are many young people clamoring to gain admission to this school, simply on the basis of requests for my help in getting them in.

I can tell you categorically that no politician can exert any influence on the Admissions Committee, as several of my colleagues have learned to their anger and embarrassment.

This small school takes on the best students available, seeking out qualified women and members of minority groups. These students stay until they graduate, at a retention rate that is a bright example to every school of dental education in Illinois or anywhere else.

I will conclude by thanking you for giving me this hearing, not for my own sake, but for the sake of the innumerable citizens whose health has already benefited from the ministrations of graduates, faculty and students of this School of Dental Medicine.

I can only hope you understand that my knowledge of these people, and my concern for those who will need good dental care in the future, are the basis of my deep-rooted commitment to this institution.

You are all experienced in pulling roots. You will never pull the root of my commitment to keeping outstanding dental education where it is seriously needed.

Mr. and Mrs. David Utley (Mr. Bride Photo)

Utley-Lindsay

The wedding of Miss Marketta A. Lindsay, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsay, Rural Route Two, and David P. Utley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Utley, Rural Route One, all of Granite City, was solemnized on Sept. 5 at the First Church of the Nazarene.

Officiating at the 3 o'clock afternoon ceremony was the Rev. Richard Unger and the Rev. William Roddy.

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal length gown designed with a lace bodice featuring a square neckline and long lace puff sleeves. The three tier skirt was also created in matching lace.

She wore a beaded lace headband to secure her veil of bridal illusion edged in lace. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses intermingled with orchid flowers.

Miss Cindy Teller was maid of honor and Miss Angie Mott served as the bridesmaid. Tina Wallace, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

They were gown in orchid dresses fashioned with fitted bodices, lace yokes, elbow length puff sleeves and full gore skirts. The adult attendants carried crescent style bouquets of lavender, orchid, purple and pink roses and the flower girl held a white basket of matching blossoms.

The groom chose his brother, Jim Utley as best man. Gary Andrews was the groomsman and Clifford Lindsay, a brother of the bride, and Brian Gallas, seated the guests.

Jamie Kemper, the groom's nephew, was the ringbearer.

Guests were received at a reception held at the Chouteau Township Hall, after the service. The rehearsal dinner was hosted at Ervay's Restaurant.

The newlywed couple is now residing in Granite City.

Homemakers tour Ste. Genevieve

Members of the Madison County Homemakers Extension Districts toured Ste. Genevieve, Mo., for International Day, last week.

There were 88 people attending who toured historic homes, businesses and age old seating places.

With their French background, the people there still cling to their heritage from the early settlement which was established between 1725 to 1738, the guests noted.

Arrangements for the trip, made by bus and van, were by Mrs. Flo Read, international chairman for the company.

Among those present were members from Godfrey, Bethalto, Edwardsville and Granite City. Twelve represented the Southwest District of Granite City Unit, Trio Unit and Isabel Bevier Unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Owens

Owens-Lovins

St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Sept. 4 of Miss Rita Marie Lovins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Lovins, 2332 O'Hare Ave., and Randy Dewayne Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Owens, 2223 State St.

The Rev. Terry Shea performed a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening followed by a reception held at Croation Home in Madison. Debbie Englemann registered the guests.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Owens, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant.

Wedding music was provided by sister Marilyn Theresa at the organ and the soloist Cathy Kirkpatrick. The bride chose an old fashioned style ivory lace over taffeta gown designed with a Victorian bodice featuring a stand-up lace collar, V-yoke accented with lace motifs and defined with a ruffle of Val lace.

Her slightly full skirt was fashioned with a detachable train and she wore a Schiffl lace picture hat with a veil at the back. She carried a bouquet of pink roses intermingled with white pitt-sporium and purple statice.

Miss Margaret Lovins, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant and Lynn Vunovic, Tina Thompson and Angie Owens, the groom's sister, were bridesmaids.

They were gown in full length rosebud color dresses designed with blouson bodices, spaghetti straps and slim skirts complemented with matching bolero jackets.

Each girl held a cascade of purple cymbidium orchids with pink roses encircled with tiny pink carnations and sprigs of purple and rose statice.

Tim Owens, a brother of the bride, served as best man with groomsman, Mike Lovins, the bride's brother, Steve Burns and Todd York. Seating the guests were Terry Strotherman, Danny Drennan and Greg Harris.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lovins selected a full length sea green chiffonette gown enhanced with Venetian lace on the bodice and waistline and terminated with a handkerchief hemline.

The groom's mother was attired in a blue chiffon formal dress created with an empire bodice with V-neckline and pleated skirt worn with a matching capelet. Both mothers wore ivory cymbidium wrist corsages.

After a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks the couple is now residing in Granite City.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hazelwood, Beaufort, Mo., Mrs. Anne Holloway and son of Union, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. James Blackwood and son Gregory of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Edith Betz, Pacific, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Trelo and daughters of Springfield, Mo.

Good Shepherd bazaar Nov. 7

The annual dinner and bazaar sponsored by the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church, 3025 National Ave. will take place on Saturday, Nov. 7, according to the chairmen.

A turkey or ham dinner will be served from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tickets costing $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children may be purchased at the bazaar and carry-outs and delivery will also be available by calling 877-7027, it was noted.

Other features of the fund raising project will include a white elephant sale, bakery items, Christmas articles and many other crafts.

Baumberger-Parrish

Miss Denise Jo Parrish of Springfield, Ill., and David William Baumberger of Granite City, were united in marriage at 5:30 p.m. on Sept. 23 at the West Side Christian Church in Springfield.

The Rev. Bruce Baumberger, brother of the groom, and the Rev. Vaughn Beeman performed the ceremony.

For her wedding the bride was attired in an ankle length white chiffon gown accented with a lace stand-up collar, long sheer sleeves with lace cuffs, and a set-in waistband.

Her softly flowing skirt terminated with a handkerchief hemline. She wore a wide brim hat with net bow that cascaded down the back and she held a bouquet of white roses.

The bride's mother chose a street length dress of champagne beige and the groom's mother selected a blue silk dress. Both wore corsages of red and white roses.

Matron of honor was Kathy Hirsch and Nancy McAdams served as the bridesmaid. Both wore identical gowns of white and pink print chiffon styled to match the bridal gown.

Dr. William Franklin was best man and Brent McCormick served as the groomsman.

Seating the guests were Jeffrey Parrish, a brother of the bride, and Dr. John Spicer.

The guitar soloist was Terry Davis.

After the service a reception was held at Top of the Arch in Springfield.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Parrish of Springfield. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baumberger, 2418 Woodlawn Ave.

A graduate of Lanphier High School in Springfield, the bride is presently employed as a medical secretary to Dr. Thomas Ferguson, Queeney Towers, St. Louis.

The groom graduated from South High School, from the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University Medical School. He is currently a second year resident physician at St. Louis University Hospitals.

They are residing in Webster Groves, Mo.

McMillan's name son Jarod Rae

She had been named Laura Beth and she weighed seven pounds, 10 ounces.

The couple also has a daughter Karla age four and one half years, and a 21-month old son, Brian.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Peters

Peters-Denham

Miss Lessa Jo Denham and Gary Forrest Peters exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony on Aug. 22 at the City Temple Assembly of God Church.

The Rev. Eugene Cope performed the double ring ceremony at 3 p.m. Nuptial selections included, "We've Only Just Begun," and "Time In the Bottle."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Denham, 1 Lily Court. The groom is the son of Harvey Peters and Mrs. Geraldine Cope, both of Granite City.

The bride chose a full length white organza and lace gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and softly flowing skirt.

She wore an appliqued picture hat and held a bouquet of lavender orchids, white forget-me-nots, lily of the valley with baby's breath.

Bridal attendants included Julia Chiappa, Pebbles Burch, Christi Peters, the groom's sister, Colbi and Carl Smith, cousins of the bride.

They appeared in identical lilac organza gowns designed with blouson bodices, split sleeves and pleated skirts. Each carried a white lace fan accented with clusters of orchids and forget-me-nots in lavender hues and violets.

Aaron Weiler attended the groom as best man. Kenney Woodworth, Ronnie Owens, Robert Conley, a brother of the groom, Chip Ashford, Mike Majek and Tom Richards, the groom's cousin, completed the corps of groomsman and ushers.

A reception was held in the Croation Home in Madison, and the rehearsal dinner was hosted at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn., the couple is now living in the Pontoon Beach area.

A graduate of North High School, the bride is presently employed as a unit secretary at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The groom is working as a security guard at Amax Zinc Co., in Saugei, Ill.

DECREE SET ASIDE

"Everything For Building Health"

THE FIVE MOST DANGEROUS WORDS ...

By DOCTOR TERRY A. RONDBERG
Doctor of Chiropractic

One of the most disappointing aspects of our educational efforts for the public is the number of people who continue to come to our office having said over, "MAYBE IT WILL GO AWAY."

When I first went into practice I felt that over a period of time I could assist the public to search for solutions to their health problems rather than "learning to live with it."

What most people don't realize is that by waiting, the only thing that will go away is the pain. But the CAUSE of the problem remains and is only getting worse if unattended. Remember, another word for PAIN is "WARNING." If we ignore the warning signal, we are looking for trouble.

Your health is much too fragile and precious a possession to jeopardize in this manner. If you have been trying patent medicines, prescription drugs, contemplating surgery, or "learning to live with it," don't let your health deteriorate. Have a thorough spinal examination to determine if your health problem can be helped with chiropractic care.

Renaissance is a new and exciting approach concerned with caring for and educating the whole person. In the Center we believe building health prevents and cures disease and enriches life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Michael Hildreth

Hildreth-Bush

Miss Eugenia Marie Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bush, 2829 Cayuga St., became the bride of J. Michael Hildreth, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hildreth, 1552 Johnson Road, on Oct. 2 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Church.

Preceding the service Michael Hildreth sang, "If" and "Three Times a Lady," accompanied by Don Stratton at the organ.

The Rev. Jim Parks performed the double ring ceremony at 6:30 in the evening before an arch decorated with white mums, red roses, baby's breath and burgundy streamers.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white chiffon empire style gown designed with a high neckline and bodice accented with embroidered lace and seed pearls which were repeated on the full bishop sleeves.

Her fingertip veil edged with scallop lace was secured to a camelot cap of lace and pearls. She carried a white lace fan centered with a cascade arrangement of burgundy silk roses.

Miss Billie Bush, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She was attired in a formal pink empire dress complemented with a white organza cape style collar edged in white lace.

Her bouquet was made up with pink and burgundy silk roses interspersed with baby's breath.

The flower girl Melinda Sanders, the bride's cousin, was dressed in a burgundy velvet skirt and pink blouse, and she carried a white basket of burgundy roses with sprigs of baby's breath. Ian Hildreth, a brother of the groom, served as the ringbearer.

Scott Hayes attended the groom as best man. Lonnie Smith and Joe Lange served as ushers and candlelighters.

Mrs. Bush, mother of the bride, appeared in a long burgundy lace gown, and the groom's mother chose a formal champagne knit dress with pleated skirt. Both mothers wore burgundy and white silk rose corsages.

A reception was held at the church fellowship hall with dinner served to 150 guests. Lisa Bush, another sister of the bride, presided over the guest book. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home.

Both young people are graduates of South High School. After a wedding trip to Tennessee, the couple is now residing here.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hildreth of Tennessee Ridge, Tenn., the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davis of Palos, Mo., great-grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John Bush and Ray Bush, grandparents and an uncle of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephens of Mount Olive, an uncle and aunt of the bride.

Lorraine Abbott

Wilhite-Abbott

The engagement of Miss Lorraine Abbott and Army Private Jason Wilhite is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Abbott, 3221 Rodger Ave.

Parents of the prospective groom are Robert Wilhite, of Granite City, and Mrs. Pat Dean of Florissant, Mo.

Pat Wilhite is stationed at Fort Eustis, Va., and is a 1980 graduate of South High School.

Miss Abbott also graduated from South High School in 1980.

The engaged couple and their families are completing plans for a December wedding to be solemnized at the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Collinsville.

AARP aids Mobile Meals

Members of the American Association of Retired Persons, Granite City Chapter 1340, voted to donate $500 to the Mobile Meals program as its 1981 community service project, during a meeting held at the Granite City Township Hall.

During the discussion, which was attended by 150 members, it was noted that 20 members volunteer their time to the Mobile Meals project through various area organizations.

Rosemarie Lindner, director of Public Relations of Hospice of Madison County, was introduced by David John, chapter president.

She spoke on the Hospice program and the Lost and Found Program, which is sponsored by Hospice as a follow-up after bereavement.

After her talk Mrs. Elina Hoover gave a talk on Action for Independent Maturity known as AIM. The national organization is for those in pre-retirement ages 40-45, she added. Literature relating to both programs was distributed by Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Lindner.

The president opened the session with prayer and leading the pledge of allegiance. He also accorded honors to guests and birthday honorees.

A guest, Mary Scheub from Gladstone, Mo., extended an invitation to anyone visiting in the Kansas City area to visit Chapter 2970 of which she is a member.

Mrs. Helen Bergfeld, secretary, was welcomed back after undergoing eye surgery. Mrs. Hoover read the minutes and correspondence which included a letter announcing a Halloween party on Oct. 29 at the Township Hall. Also a letter from the editor of Chapter News commending the local group on its news bulletin.

A financial review was submitted by Mrs. Clara Schillinger. Mrs. Vernice Walter reported the chapter charter was on display at the podium and Earl French was taking pictures for the history book.

She also said the Institute of Learning has two classes in the local area, Quad-City Heritage held at the Croation Home and Stretching Your Resources at the YMCA.

Mrs. Georgia Butler announced many greeting cards have been sent to members and their families, on behalf of the chapter.

A slate of officers to be voted on at the November meeting was presented by Mrs. Ruby Corbitt. Nominees include, Ruth Allen, president, Vina Law, vice-president, Juanita Crowley, treasurer, Evelyn Fields, secretary. Also board members, Irene Kadace, Helen Bertacchi, Hans Jensen, Vernice Walter, Elizabeth McCoy, Marie Baker, Karmyn Edmonds, John Baker, Rebecca Parrish and Ada Thomas.

New members, Lillian Bauney, Irene Waggoner, Edith Ryan, Florence Austin and Leona Phillips, were introduced by Marge Hall.

The next board meeting is set for 9:15 a.m. on Oct. 28, and the membership session will be on Nov. 11 at 7 p.m., both at the Township Hall, it was noted.

After the meeting refreshments were served and attendance prizes awarded.

Scholarship Halloween dance Fricay, Oct. 30

The first annual scholarship Halloween dance for the Area Council of PTA will be held Friday, Oct. 30 at the Croation Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison.

Live music will be supplied by "Music Delights." The band is featuring Stan Fornaszewski, who recently appeared on the Danny Thomas show, televised in St. Louis. The group will play all types of music for dancing.

The object of the dance is to raise money to give student $500 scholarships, one to each high school, in the spring. Last year, the scholarship was won by Richard Takmajian, who is now attending SIU at Edwardsville, and is majoring in art. "We are proud of our students from Granite City and that is why we want to have two scholarships this year," Bea Stevenson, chairman, said.

There will be judging for costumes, prizes, and refreshments. The dance will begin at 8 p.m. and last to 1 a.m.

Every school has tickets for sale, so people may buy them at Branding's service station.

Tickets also will be sold at the door, the chairman added.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell to mark anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lowell, 2425 Iowa St., will be honored at an open house reception on Saturday, Nov. 7, in observance of their 60th wedding anniversary.

The social event will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

Hosts will be the children of the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Milford Lowell of Belen, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowell of Berryville, Ark.

The couple also has three grandsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell were residents of Eminence, Mo., at the time of the marriage on Nov. 7, 1921, and have lived in this area for 58 years.

Mr. Lowell was employed at Granite City Steel from 1922 until his retirement in 1962.

Both are active members of the church. Friends and relatives are being invited to attend, according to a family spokesman.

Mr. Mrs. Harris name 1st child

Craig Gilley Harris is the selected by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Harris Jr. 2324 Cardinal Ave., for their first child born on Oct. 10 at Christian Northwest Hospital, St. Louis County.

The new arrival weighed seven pounds, eight ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gilley and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Harris Sr., all of Granite City. Great-grandparents include Mrs. Clara Gilley, Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. William Porter of Fairmont City.

Veteran's Day event topic of auxiliary

The annual Veteran's Day observance, set for Nov. 11, was the main topic of discussion of the Amvets Auxiliary of Post 51, at last week's meeting.

A ceremony is to be held on the lawn of the City Hall in Granite City to commence at 11 a.m., and include representatives of all Quad-City veteran organizations as well as Boy and Girl Scout troops.

Scout troops are asked to meet on the parking lot of St. Joseph Church, 2101 State St., prior to the event and they will then be led in parade formation by the Amvets and Auxiliary of Post 51 to the city hall.

For more information troops interested are advised to call Betty Wilkins, Americanism chairman, at 877-8297 or Mrs. Ann Tucker, president, at 877-8674.

Advance contact is required for detailed instructions for troop recognition during the service, the president noted.

Special guest at the session was Mrs. Nita Cornell of Waukegan, Ill., department president, and was introduced by Auxiliary President Ann Tucker.

Six members hosted a party for 85 residents of the Shelter Care Home in Edwardsville, it was announced. Residents celebrated the event by wearing their own Halloween costumes and judging was in three categories. Each one present received a gift at the monthly visit. The next party will be held on Nov. 10.

A visit to the Alpha Center was made by Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Barbara Seibert, junior vice-president. Members voted to purchase items for the residents to be delivered during the visit.

They also agreed to purchase five cases of canned goods for the St. Joseph Church senior citizen game

Getting furnace ready for winter

By MARY RICHARDS

The nights are getting chilly and we are beginning to turn on our furnaces. Some of us rely on our furnace to function properly year after year without giving it much thought. But, every winter more than 8,000 Americans receive emergency treatment for injuries associated with furnaces.

The Illinois Department of Public Health has some safety tips that may help you avoid a furnace-related accident:

1. Clear any combustible materials from the furnace area. Remove all accumulated rubbish, newspapers, boxes, sawdust, wood scraps.

2. All fuel-burning appliances need air in order to burn the fuel properly. If a furnace, or a wood-burning stove, is "starved" of its necessary intake air it will not operate efficiently and can produce fatal quantities of carbon monoxide. In an effort to save energy, many people are over-insulating their homes and blocking the air drafts around doors and windows. Furnaces actually need some air coming from around doors or windows or they need intake-air piping.

Intake-air piping is required by the building codes today in new homes or when new furnaces are installed, but many older homes do not have this piping.

3. You should not attempt to light a pilot light unless you are familiar with the proper techniques for doing so. Natural gas vapors can accumulate, ignite and cause a fire or burn. So have your pilot light lit and your furnace checked regularly by a service company.

4. Your heating system should be cleaned periodically. The filters should also be replaced or cleaned at regular intervals. Have flues checked to be sure they are not blocked by debris which could prevent fumes from rising and permit them to enter the house. If chimneys or vents are not screened, small animals and birds can seal them off with their nests.

5. Soot in chimneys and flues is highly combustible and, if ignited, can cause a ball of fire to whoosh down into the furnace or fireplace.

6. Floor-furnace grates are hazardous, especially to toddlers who can crawl onto the hot metal and suffer severe burns. These grates should be covered with screens made for the purpose, which will prevent children — and adults — from coming in contact with the hot surfaces and possibly suffering painful burns.

7. Keep flammable liquids, such as gasoline, away from your furnace because the vapors could be ignited by the pilot light. Always store flammable liquids in tightly capped safety cans away from any flame or heat sources — preferably outside.

The state health department feels that if you follow these health and safety tips, you will greatly reduce your chances of a furnace-related accident this winter.

RESIDENCE ENTERED ON TWO OCCASIONS

A burglar entered the W. A. Brummer residence, 2310 Delmar Ave., on two consecutive nights last week, stealing a $600 telephone answering machine, a $395 color television set with 19-inch screen, and a copying machine. An inventory, being made to determine what else was taken.

The intruder broke into the home through windows and ransacked various rooms.

Influenza is dangerous

By MARY RICHARDS

Influenza is a potentially serious respiratory disease which can be life-threatening to the chronically ill or the elderly. Influenza, commonly called flu, must not be confused with what is often known as "stomach flu."

Influenza is a more severe disease with symptoms lasting from several days to a week or two.

You can catch flu by direct contact when a person who has the infection, coughs or sneezes near you. You can also catch the flu indirectly when you touch almost anything an infected person has recently handled.

If you've caught the flu, you'll probably feel miserable. After an incubation period averaging two days, you are likely to have chills and fever, usually about 101-102 degrees Fahrenheit. Fever can go higher, especially in children. You will probably have a headache, sore muscles and joints and overall aches.

Other symptoms are respiratory and include a cough, which is usually dry, and a sore throat. Some persons, especially children, may have a congested runny nose. These symptoms usually last about a week, but it will probably be another week or two before you feel completely back to normal.

If flu symptoms are persistent, or if your condition worsens, contact your physician.

If you get the flu, you can spread the virus for about a week following the appearance of the first symptom. That's why people who have the flu are cautioned not to return to work or school until they are beyond the communicable stage.

They should use disposable tissues and dispose of them in such a manner that other people will not be exposed.

If you want to lower your chances of catching flu, you should avoid contact with the flu virus as much as possible. This means that during the flu season, you should avoid crowds, avoid unnecessary contact with anyone who may have the flu, and wash your hands after contact with a person who has influenza or after handling anything that has been handled by a person with influenza.

You will be better able to resist the flu virus if you take good care of yourself and keep up your resistance. Eat a well-balanced diet, and drink extra liquids, especially fruit juices during the flu season. Get enough sleep. Avoid stress — stress lowers your resistance. It helps to keep the humidity in your house no lower than 30-45 percent so that your respiratory passages won't get too dry.

The Illinois Department of Public Health recommends that persons 65 or older and anyone with chronic ailments, such as heart and lung diseases, diabetes, or chronic kidney disease be vaccinated against influenza. These shots are usually given in the fall each

Record earnings by Air Products

Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., last week reported higher fourth quarter and annual sales and earnings despite the worldwide economic slowdown and unfavorable currency shifts. Granite City is among its plant sites.

Air Products' fourth quarter sales of $403 million were nine percent higher than the comparable period of last year, while earnings for the quarter rose 24 percent to $28.8 million, or $1.01 per share.

The increase in fourth quarter earnings came from strong domestic industrial gas and equipment shipments, and a chemicals business that rebounded from depressed levels in the same period of 1980.

Overall gains in the industrial gas business were offset by weakening of European currencies in relation to the U.S. dollar. Sales for the company's fiscal year ending in Sept. 30 increased 11 percent to $1.6 billion. Earnings rose nine percent to $126 million, or $4.42 a share.

The new annual earnings record was due to improved operations in all business segments.

Improved profits in the domestic merchant industrial gas business and increased sales of liquefied natural gas heat exchangers were major contributors to the growth.

These gains were partially offset by a decline in the results of the company's European operations because of the reduction in value of European currencies translated in U.S. dollars. In local currencies, European gas operations improved modestly over last year. The improvement in chemicals was due primarily to gains in polymers.

Investments in plants and equipment continued at a high level during 1981 and are expected to more than $600 million in 1982.

"This level of investment and the current economic uncertainty will challenge the company in the coming year," Air Products Chairman Edward Donley said.

"Beyond 1982, however, the picture brightens considerably. We have substantial operating leverage in our new capacity."

9 to join American Steel 25-year club

The 25-Year Club of American Steel Foundries will enroll nine new members at its 38th annual meeting and banquet, to be held at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison, at 5 p.m. Nov. 11.

After the dinner, there will be a film presentation by William P. Donovan, works manager, showing the progress of the expansion program currently under way.

There will be scenes of many areas of the plant before the building program started, and views of the new buildings and facilities now completed.

Also planned are slides of many of the "oldtimers" as well as slides of current employees.

The nine new members will receive watches from Donovan.

The club's enrollment now stands at 372. Twenty-four members died within the past year.

For most of us, the problem isn't deciding whether or not to give help to those who need it. But it's trying to decide who needs our help the most.

That's why there's United Way. When you give, you're supporting a wide range of human services. Over 7,000 different agencies in all in more than 2100 communities across the country. And, you're helping thousands of people in your own community who, for one reason or another, can't help themselves.

Sure, you can try to decide for yourself who needs help the most. Or, you can give through the United Way. Because the fairest way for any of us to help those in need is for all of us to help together.

"RECURRING HEADACHES"

Headaches are probably the most common of all maladies that cause human discomfort. A headache is a symptom. It tells us that something is wrong. It may be caused by high blood pressure, kidney problems or a host of other things, including the irritation of the upper spinal nerves.

Chronic or recurring headaches at the base of the skull and the upper neck are often due to a slightly displaced spinal segment. This can cause the nerves to be compressed and irritated, resulting in headache.

Could chiropractic care relieve your chronic headache? For information on this and other health problems, call for an appointment. There is no charge for consultation.

United Way benefits all, deserves support of everyone

Autumn brings colorful trees, football—and the United Way.

As the Tri-Cities Area UW drive progresses, facing a difficult challenge, it is important that local residents, employees, businesses and organizations give their maximum support.

Voluntary services always have been needed and have been of great help to people in all walks of life. This is especially true now that governmental programs are being altered or reduced. The challenge must be accepted and met.

As the Southern Illinois Labor Tribune commented this month, "Who benefits? All of us. The United Way is the means for supporting the vital agencies in our community which handle human problems, from disaster relief to family counseling, youth programs and rehabilitation of the handicapped. Without the UW, without our contributions, these voluntary services would be cut off without government support funded by higher taxes."

"If a permanent, crippling illness struck a member of your neighborhood family, how could he or she turn for help? Who would provide emergency food, clothing and medical assistance if a flood hit the town?"

Who offers the counseling programs that help in the rehabilitation of drug abuse victims?

Who provides these services, through your UW contribution. You control the purse strings, and you determine how able your community is to respond to personal and natural disaster or emerging social problems.

"The United Way itself is not an agency, but literally a way for your contributions to reach the organizations which can solve the problem."

"We are all concerned about the quality of life. Secure communities can be built only if we are willing to invest in tackling the big and difficult human problems which people in our neighborhoods face." That investment can best be made through pledges to the United Way. A full dollar's worth of meaningful service is obtained for each dollar given to programs that are locally monitored to assure effectiveness and avoid waste.

The varied programs truly benefit everyone and, by everyone giving, the task is kept within reasonable bounds—a fair amount of help for the community's needs. Contributions, achieves wondrous results in our caring, compassionate Quad-City community.

Facts show continued need for the local dental school

Guest comment by Alton Telegraph—"The University of Illinois is using its political power to try to force the SIUE Dental School out of existence," said State Rep. Jim McPike of this district.

A couple of weeks ago, someone suggested that since the U. of I. must be behind the evaluation of the School of Dental Medicine. Factiously, we asked why it would want to extract the SIUE dental school. In a word, the answer is money.

The question was factitious because we recalled other efforts by the U. of I. to limit growth by SIUE and other state universities. About 20 years ago, it vigorously opposed authorization for SIUE at Carbondale to confer degrees in engineering. That's only one example. Earlier, the U. of I. did not want a school of dentistry at SIUE.

Neither did medical educators at the Medical Center campus in Chicago want the Alton dental school or the SIUE School of Medicine in Springfield, both of which were being developed a decade ago.

Both the U. of I. and SIUE wanted to expand with a new campus at Springfield, which the higher education and legislative powers settled by creating a brand new university, Sangamon State. So it was no surprise when the U. of I. learned the solution by a special Illinois Board of Higher Education committee was perhaps, in part, instigated by alumni of the U. of I. College of Dentistry.

The U. of I. has the IBHE into doing this because it has excess capacity. Its dental college has room for 165 students a year but has a freshman class of only 36. The Alton dental school has an enrollment of 212, or 53 students per class, in a four-year program.

"They have gotten their graduates—who may feel threatened by increased competition—to write these letters," McPike said. In addition to the ever-tighter state higher education dollars, some dentists are screaming about too much new competition from all the dentists SIUE has placed in central and southern Illinois. SIUE officials defended their dental school at the special dental education committee of the IBHE held its second hearing in Alton Oct. 20. The committee was created to report by December on the status of dental education in Illinois, and specifically, on the economic and educational justification for the Alton facility.

In creating the committee, the IBHE said the need for the Alton campus should be re-evaluated because of the "lack of demonstrated need for current overall levels of dental school enrollment and the costliness of updating the Alton campus, housed in the aging buildings of the former Shurtleff College.

Last month, SIUE trustees approved a scaled-down proposal for a $9.1 million dental clinic at the first formal hearing of the committee. SIUE President Earl Lazerson cited, among other facts, the placement of dental school graduates in central and southern Illinois practices.

Also going for the Alton campus is the best record in the state for graduates' successful completion of licensing examinations. The school's graduates are the school's 53 slots in each year's class.

In short, it seems to be doing exactly what it was designed to do in the IBHE's master plan. Also, there is a $16 million impact on the result of the school's operations on the local economy.

It is the job of the Higher Education Board to take a statewide perspective. The U. of I. cannot call for the closing of the Alton campus, and we have an institution of higher education on a quiet old college campus.

The statewide perspective is especially important in these times of tight dollars and the demonstrated need for a new dental clinic.

In fact, nearly all of the facts so far look favorable for the SIUE School of Dental Medicine.

Police say layoffs, pay freeze unfairly linked to home rule election by mayor

To the Editor:

On Monday, Oct. 19, all police officers of the City of Madison were requested to meet with Chief of Police Donald L. Bridick. At the meeting, Chief Bridick informed all officers that he was sent to convey a message to his police officers from Mayor Sasyk.

The message which a majority of the members of the Madison Police Department would like to become public knowledge is: Mayor Sasyk stated through Chief Bridick that if the home rule issue did not pass (in the Nov. 3 election) that he will have to lay off two or three policemen, street department workers and permanently freeze the wages of those remaining officers for the next three years.

We, members of the Madison Police Department, feel it is ironic that a couple of months ago Mayor Sasyk said in an open meeting that the city had hoped to give the city employees a raise, after the utility tax was instituted. Now all of a sudden, since home rule is being challenged by a group which is not affiliated with the Madison Police Department, we are informed that layoffs and wage freezes will occur if home rule does not pass.

We ask: which is more important, home rule and cable TV, or the safety of our residents?

We, members of the Madison Police Department, are like any group in that we enjoy the benefits of a pay increase. However, utmost is that we feel that the safety of the citizens of our community has always come first.

At no time has any member of the Madison Police Department while working advocated pro or con about home rule.

We ask at this time Mayor Sasyk that you refrain from using such tactics as layoffs and wage freezes as a weapon to try and influence the voters.

Any opinion that is expressed by any member of the Madison Police Department is done solely as a citizen, a voter and not as a policeman.

Cable would save Madison's declining financial base; could not become a debt

To the Editor:

Citizens of Madison, on Tuesday, Nov. 3 you'll be asked to vote on a "home rule" referendum. In order to make an intelligent decision on this matter, one should be well informed.

It is difficult to see the truth when rumors are circulated as facts by uninformed persons.

Being against the city administration seems to be the popular thing to do these days, but being against an issue solely because of personality conflicts is hardly in the best interest of the community.

Persons who claim to have a genuine interest in the community, are speaking out against home rule.

They have attended various meetings on the issue and their sole purpose has been to disrupt the meetings, rather than rationally participate to assure that those present are well informed.

Many other issues, the utility tax, cable TV, etc., have been brought into the issue. Doing this only makes the issue of home rule more confusing.

Home rule is being sought by our city administration to enable the city to effectively manage our very own cable TV system.

Cable TV is seen by city administrators as a savior to our declining tax structure, after three years of research.

The matter of home rule for cable TV is the result of legal opinions of attorneys working on the proposed project.

I have talked to financial experts and have been assured that there is no way the City of Madison or its taxpayers could be held accountable for payment of the bonds, should the system fail.

These experts say the system and its equipment would be the collateral for the revenue bonds.

Cable TV systems throughout the country have been successful. None has failed.

There are bidding wars over territories. Cable TV is a lucrative industry.

The rule for the City of Madison has been compared with the failures of other cities that have home rule. Madison has been made of the cities with home rule that are successful, and there are many.

Those who fail to do so because of home rule, but because of poor management.

The current administration has been praised, even by home rule opponents, for outstanding fiscal management while continuing to give outstanding services.

Our current administration has been successful in managing the city's financial straits in the near future which could curtail the services to which we are accustomed. They haven't waited until the city was in "the red" to act.

That first becoming aware of the home rule issue, attended several meetings of the group which is now known as "Madison Citizens Against Home Rule."

I attended these meetings because I wanted to learn about home rule and how it would affect the community. I found that those calling the meetings were less informed than I.

Out of town guests, representatives of the Eastern Madison County Organizing Committee, and Madison's Public Relations Council were invited to speak to us.

They told us that we should be against home rule, but that if we were not, we would be against the city's financial future. They said that the purpose of their groups was to help obtain citizen involvement in the home rule issue, while opposing to any issue proposed by elected or appointed officials.

Conflicting statements in Madison

To the Editor:

The mayor of Madison has been holding meetings in various parts of the city.

The people who ask questions don't get the answers. Those people present go home not only with their own questions, but with some raised by others.

At the East Madison meeting Oct. 15, the "million-dollar shopping center" project was quoted by the mayor as costing $500,000.

Also at the East Madison meeting, there were 2,900 households estimated as possible TV hookups. At the same time, 3 and 3 meeting only told us to days later that the hookups were reduced to 2,600.

What happened to 300 homes over the weekend? The answers were given to us by the mayor's staff. They told us that the hookups were reduced to 2,600 because of the mayor's staff's decision to not include the hookups of the homes of the mayor's staff.

They told us that we should be against home rule, but that if we were not, we would be against the city's financial future. They said that the purpose of their groups was to help obtain citizen involvement in the home rule issue, while opposing to any issue proposed by elected or appointed officials.

Also at the East Madison meeting, there were 2,900

Thank patrons for Lions donations

To the Editor:

On Oct. 9 and 10 the Lions Club conducted its annual Candy Day Fund Drive. This campaign provides the club with funds to pursue its goals of helping children that have sight and hearing impairment.

Granite City's response to our effort was truly overwhelming. The generosity and willing attitude of our citizens made the task not only successful but very pleasant. For this, the Lions Club wishes to thank the many who contributed their money and their smile.

We pledge to each of you a renewed enthusiasm in pursuing our objective of service to our community. As a result of recent budget cuts at the federal level, President Reagan has designated a renewed spirit of self help and volunteerism to meet the need of our communities. Mr. President—let's get it started here in Granite City, Ill.

O'Neill is candidate as 3d circuit court judge

To the Editor:

Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill of Alton has announced that he is a candidate for the office of circuit judge. O'Neill, a Democrat, was elected to the office to be created by the recently announced retirement of Judge Joseph J. Barr of the River, effective Dec. 1, 1982.

The vacancy will be on the ballot in the primary and general elections held in the entire Third Judicial Circuit, which includes Madison and Bond Counties. "Service to the judiciary is a career goal for me," O'Neill stated. "I believe that my performance as an Associate Judge proves that I am hard working, dedicated and highly qualified to serve as Circuit Judge."

O'Neill has served as the presiding judge in the Probate Court, the Juvenile Court and the Traffic and Misdemeanor Division in Edwardsville. He presently resides in Alton with his wife, Jane, and their two sons.

Superb play at South

To the Editor:

I would like to commend Mr. Ron Pennell of the drama department of Granite City High School for the superb performance in the homecoming play, "Bye, Bye, Birdie."

It proves that the many hours of rehearsal were well with the effort. The students who attended the play should be commended for their exemplary behavior.

I'd like to thank Principal and Assistant Principal Pat Schuman and the teachers for a job well done. We are proud of you.

Weber says suit mainly a nuisance

By ED GURNEY

Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber said he is confident that a lawsuit filed against him over a recent rape case will be thrown out of court.

On Nov. 3, Mayor Sasyk's personality is not on the ballot. The home rule issue is.

Home rule, simply stated, is "local control by locally elected officials." Which means more control by the voter and taxpayer.

Many times we've been displeased with state and federal laws which regulate our community. These laws do not always protect. They sometimes hurt us.

Everyone has heard the complaint in various areas—ranging from forced busing of our children to multipliers on our tax bills.

Before deciding on this important issue, ask yourself the following questions:

1. Do I as a citizen of the City of Madison have the same accessibility to the governor of the state and a majority of the state legislature as I do the Mayor and City Council of Madison?

2. Do I, or a group I am involved with, have greater influence over officials elected statewide, or elected from other areas, than I do locally-elected officials?

3. Do officials at the state level, the majority of which are from other areas, understand the unique problems in the City of Madison?

4. Can the voting power of the citizens of Madison have the same effect with the governor or state legislature as does locally-elected officials?

Of course, the answer to all these questions is no. Let's keep the faith in our city administration and help them better our community by voting yes for home rule on Nov. 3.

Hospice offers bereavement series

Hospice of Madison County is offering for the second year a bereavement training program in a series of four sessions at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The program started Tuesday, Oct. 20, continued Thursday and subsequent sessions are scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 27, and Thursday, Oct. 29, from 6:30 p.m. until 9 p.m., in Pascal Hall near the outpatient department at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The program is open to the public at no charge. However, a donation of $3 per person to help cover the printing cost of manuals is requested, according to Rosemarie Lindner, Hospice public relations director.

The purpose of the series is to assist participants in recognizing and understanding their own needs and loss and grief and to utilize the information in offering help to the bereaved individual or family.

Dr. Doris Bell, professor of psychology at SIUE, who spoke on the topic, "Hospice Approach to Bereavement." A panel discussion also dealt with the role of Bereavement Volunteers.

Those who have attended all four sessions will be awarded a certificate. Mrs. Lindner said. Further information may be obtained by calling the Hospice office at 798-3399.

Park Board seeks new director

George Sykes, president of the Granite City Park Board, has announced that applications will be accepted until Nov. 20, for the position of director of parks and recreation.

Residence in the Granite City Park District is not necessary to apply. However, it will be required upon being appointed to the position.

Starting salary for the director's job will be $20,000 per year.

Those interest may send resumes to G. H. Sykes, president, Granite City Park Board, 3524 Johnson Road, Granite City, Ill. 62040 through a duplex window and forcing a 25-year-old woman to have sex with him several times.

In a civil suit, Cueto alleged that the alleged victim acted with malice because she knew she submitted voluntarily.

Because of the prosecution, Cook had to pay legal fees and was placed in fear of being fined or sent to prison, the suit states. It alleges that the action violated the civil rights act and Cook's constitutional rights under the fifth and fourteenth amendments.

Cueto said Weber charged Cook with rape several weeks after Cook had been charged only with unlawful restraint.

The suit also contends: "That the grand jury did not indict Cook."

That the victim's allegations were not substantiated by police investigation and that police did not arrest Cook until ordered by Weber.

Cueto said Cook passed a lie detector test and that the victim did not.

Cueto said Weber maliciously prosecuted Cook to further Weber's reputation by being like "Attila the Hun."

The suit seeks a judgment of $15,000 in punitive damages.

Weber said Cueto was angry because the Madison County state's attorney's office refused to settle the case by plea bargaining.

Weber said he believed it was a tough case to prove, but felt it should be presented to a jury because he was convinced Cook was guilty.

He said the grand jury was not asked to indict Cook. Weber denied that the victim failed a lie detector test, and he questioned the reliability of the test taken by Cook.

BAC budget being reviewed quarterly

"Belleville Area College has taken yet another step toward becoming more accountable to the taxpayers in District 522. The community college has taken a statewide lead in the introduction of quarterly budget reviews," BAC President Dr. Bruce Wissore said last week.

"This board of trustees and this administration are committed to making the most effective use of each dollar received," Wissore said.

"A quarterly budget review system gives us three times as many looks at our spending and income habits."

The college is just completing the first such review, said Vice-President for Administrative Services James J. Hines. "It shows we're right on target," Hines said.

The reviews will allow for adjustments to the budget four times a year — after Sept. 30, after Dec. 31, after March 31, 1982, and after June 30, he noted.

"The administration is carefully scrutinizing the budget," Hines said, stressing that the new system involves participation of more people than ever before.

"Adjustments were done at the end of the year in the past, with an analysis usually done by my office in January," Hines explained.

"Now we're putting more of the responsibility back on the people who manage their own budgets. There's more staff involvement and greater fiscal responsibility on the part of everyone involved in the budgeting process."

Participation by more individuals began during preparation of this year's budget. A budget hearing committee composed of Wissore, Hines, Vice President for Instruction Dr. R. Wayne Clark, Vice President for Financial Services Dr. Weldon Tallant, accounting instructor and certified public accountant Wayne E. Pfingsten, and management instructor Don Kassing conducted open hearings with each individual responsible for a department, program or administrative budget.

The budget was prepared through a modified zero-base budgeting technique. It requires building of the budget "from the ground up" rather than simply changing or adding to a previous year's plan.

The same budget committee met to review the budget at the end of the first quarter.

Where the members had questions, they asked the individual to prepare a written explanation of differences in actual expenditures and those that had been budgeted.

After reviewing those explanations, the committee made adjustments within the confines of the college's budget, Hines said.

He gave an example of the kind of changes the committee made:

"We looked at part-time salaries to determine if enrollment led to more instructors being hired than had been budgeted," Hines said. The committee then searched for the needed salary money elsewhere in the budget.

Expenditures were not the only thing considered. The quarterly reviews also give trustees and administrators a chance to look at the flow of income into the district. When the budget is prepared, anticipated revenue must be estimated, Hines pointed out.

"We don't have total control of income," he said. "Although the operating tax rate for the district has been the same since 1967, the dollar amount has not."

"The assessed valuation, which is set by the clerk in the eight counties served by BAC, is unknown when the budget is established."

"We still do not have a certified copy of assessed valuation for this year."

"Income received from tuition and fees fluctuates with enrollment and cannot be known precisely until after the beginning of each semester."

"The quarterly reviews allow for adjustments in anticipated revenue to agree with the actual amount received, and give administrators an early warning if funds are running short of those expected."

"They are just part of a series of reports used in the continual budgeting process."

"The responsible for budgets receive monthly reports keeping them abreast of their spending in relation to their budget. They also receive a detailed budget analysis showing bills paid after each board meeting."

"These reports give the staff a summation of the current budget position," Hines continued. "The quarterly reviews will help us more accurately address placement of expenses in the budget, and will improve the staff's ability to read and interpret the budget."

"It's really a simplification of the process so we can make more intelligent decisions."

"We're definitely on top of the budget much better than ever before."

Walt Schlemer agency honored

Miles Simonson, St. Louis regional director of Realty World, has announced that Walt Schlemer Realty of Granite City, was one of the top dollar volume Realty World offices in the Greater St. Louis Region during the third quarter of 1981, placing third among 60 offices.

Elmer Pape is manager of the winning office and congratulated his staff on a job well done in spite of soaring interest rates and a tight money supply.

Walt Schlemer Realty World operates real estate offices in Edwardsville, Collinsville, Highland and Belleville along with a commercial division and insurance department.

Enrollment up at BAC

A trend of increased enrollment continues at Belleville Area College, reflecting the statewide trend at community colleges of approximately 10 percent.

Enrollment for the fall semester is 12,773 students; a 7.81 percent increase from this time last year. This is slightly up from the 7.63 percent increase between the fall of 1979 and fall of 1980.

Accompanying the increase of students is a 7.65 percent increase in the number of credit hours; There are 3,017 full-time students and 9,756 part-time students taking a total of 86,439 credit hours.

BAC has seen a steady growth in student population since the fall of 1977. During that semester, there were approximately 9,500 students; by spring 1981 12,000 were enrolled at the college.

Labor, business will help improve Bureau of Employment Security

Governor James R. Thompson last week formed a business-labor task force to examine management practices of the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security.

"In June of this year, through the joint effort of business and labor leaders, we were able to write compromise legislation which should put the unemployment insurance program on sound financial footing," Thompson said.

"But this legislation will not achieve its purpose if we don't take steps now to examine and change the bureau's management practices."

Thompson said he wants a comprehensive review of the policies and procedures specifically to:

—Assess with the BES the implementation of Illinois' unemployment insurance law.

—Assist in identifying priorities and standards for recovery of uncollected unemployment insurance taxes.

—Provide recommendations for substantive changes in the internal management practices of BES.

—Assure that its rules are in full compliance with the Administrative Procedures Act.

—Review the accounting and budgeting practices and procedures of the agency and identify steps needed to assure fiscally sound, multi-year cash management of the unemployment insurance trust fund.

—Examine personnel practices and recommend steps to eliminate ineffective practices and to increase staff productivity.

—Assess BES' development and maintenance of standards for timely benefit payments, claims adjudication and related service areas.

—Review priorities, goals and functioning of the agency's job search and placement services.

—Examine budget and staff resource allocation and provide recommendations for improved use of resources.

—Provide recommendations and direction concerning the organizational structure.

Gov. Thompson named Lester Brann, president of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Gibson, formerly of Granite City, president of the Illinois State AFL-CIO, as co-chairman of the task force.

Members include: Orville Bergen, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

William Brogan, vice president, Operating Engineers Local 399.

Post earnings show increase

Post Corporation earned $485,000 or 26 cents per share in the third quarter, compared with $291,000 or 16 cents per share a year ago.

The communications firm's earnings for the first three quarters of 1981 now stand at $1,736,000 or 95 cents per share. Last year, after three quarters, earnings were $1,465,000 or 80 cents per share.

Resurgence of earnings in the company's newspaper division was principally responsible for the increased earnings, a spokesman said.

He added that the commercial printing division also is reporting higher profits than a year ago. Meanwhile, the broadcast division, with sales just matching last year's and expenses higher, has had lower earnings for the quarter and the nine months.

Reduced interest costs also contributed to the favorable results, the spokesman said.

Post owns and operates newspapers, broadcast stations and commercial printing plants in nine states, including the Granite City Press-Record and Collinsville Herald.

SELECTED AS PLEDGE Catherine Ortiz, daughter of Frank and Rosemary Ortiz of Granite City, has been pledged to Epsilon Xi Chapter of Alpha Phi, international fraternity for women, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Introduce Frohardt
staff to PTA members

Frohardt School Principal and PTA President Gary Pfoerder introduced the Frohardt School teachers and staff at this month's PTA meeting, the first of the school year.

The theme for this year will be, "The '50's." The attendance winners for the September and October Stardust skating parties, sponsored by Frohardt PTA, were announced. In September, Caryn Haddix won $5 and sodas were won by Alan Wasson, Angel Clark, Mark Janco and Jeff Malone.

In October, Jeff Greenwood won $5 and sodas were won by Sondra Andrews, Angela Robertson, Castle Craycraft, and Jeremy Shamberger.

A chapter of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA), will have a branch at each school, according to Blumenstock. Many students in the vocational programs travel to both schools for vocational classes.

Membership is open to students who are currently enrolled in vocational classes at both schools, electronics, child care, foods, building trades, machine shop, and others. The faculty advisers are Paul McCord at South and Gus Lignault at North.

Form vocational groups

A new student organization which will have branches at both Granite City High School and South, is currently being organized by Lloyds Blumenstock, a senior at South.

A chapter of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA), will have a branch at each school, according to Blumenstock. Many students in the vocational programs travel to both schools for vocational classes.

Membership is open to students who are currently enrolled in vocational classes at both schools, electronics, child care, foods, building trades, machine shop, and others. The faculty advisers are Paul McCord at South and Gus Lignault at North.

The first meeting at South will be held today at 3:30 p.m.

Interested North students may assemble at 7:40 a.m. tomorrow in Room N311 for a preliminary meeting. VICA nationally holds state and national skill competitions and there are many scholarships awarded through VICA.

Each branch will have its own officers and a joint executive committee will be formed to give overall guidance to the VICA branches. There are nine vocational classes at South and two at North.

Blumenstock is a vocational electronics major and attends vocational classes at both schools. Additional information on VICA may be obtained by contacting the faculty advisers or Blumenstock.

Weapons
are stolen

Several weapons were stolen during the weekend from various homes, Granite City police were told.

Raymond Israel, 2442 Adams St., discovered that between 7:30 p.m. and Monday, Oct. 19, and 40 a.m. Saturday, a 12-gauge single shot shotgun with a full choke, barrel and oversized recoil pad was stolen from his home.

David Hale, 2236 Iowa St., reported to police at 12:50 p.m. Saturday that a .22-caliber semi-automatic, 18-shot rifle had been taken from the gun rack in the family room. Hale was not sure when the rifle was stolen.

A 25-caliber automatic pistol was taken from the top of the refrigerator located in the rear of the apartment of Maria Breeze, 4204 Kirkpatrick Homes. The pistol was believed to have been stolen sometime between Thursday and 5:15 p.m. Saturday when she discovered it missing.

Consisting of 3.2 Acres more or less, 2341 Adams St., Granite City, IL 62040. Formerly Merit Properties Co.

Said amendment would change the zoning classification of the real estate immediately above described from an M-1 District to a M-2 District.

This property is also known as 2341 Adams St.

Patrolman hired, then laid off

There is a difference between being appointed to a city job in Granite City and being employed, at least one would be city policeman has discovered.

At a city council meeting, the council approved a request by the city's Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to appoint Michael Gagich, a probationary policeman, filling the vacancy created by the death of Patrolman Ed Wiesehan.

However, the police department is currently in a hiring freeze and there is no money in the police department's budget to put Gagich to work.

Alderman Everett Morlen, chairman of the council's police committee, explained, "You don't have to put him to work until you have the money to put him to work. This is to put him in line."

Mayor Paul Schuler added, "I can assure you I won't be put to work until the council approves."

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said the appointment is necessary to avoid a possible lawsuit. He explained that city ordinances call for a police force of 82 sworn officers and that requirement must be met before a new police eligibility list is established.

Since Gagich has been number one on the eligibility list of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners for two years, he must be appointed to the post of probationary patrolman before the eligibility list expires, which is Nov. 1.

Gagich would have legal recourse to force the city to live up to its ordinance and hire him with back pay from the time the eligibility list expired, Veizer contended.

The appointment of Gagich is dated effective Oct. 30, but he will be considered on layoff until the council approves his being called to work, City Attorney John Papa explained.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward said he thought the council had agreed to reduce the police department manpower by attrition and would not fill vacancies as they were created. Schuler disagreed, saying the police department was one department the council did not want to reduce by attrition.

The council agreed to hire Gagich, pending his passing a physical examination, but to consider him on layoff status until funds are available for the eligibility list to be allowed to expire Nov. 1 and testing will begin Nov. 14 of candidates for a new eligibility list.

Applicants for probationary patrolman may pick up the necessary forms by Nov. 1 at the office of the chief of police in the police building. Written testing will take place Saturday, Nov. 14, at Granite City High School South and those who earn the highest scores on the written test will be interviewed and given ability tests by the city's Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

A new eligibility list then will be announced, but no hirings are anticipated from that list until after Gagich is put on duty and another vacancy exists.

Gary Collins has done his homework

By ALAN GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — It has been about a year since "Hour Magazine" premiered as the first of a line of so-called "third generation" talk shows, so tagged because the emphasis is on information.

Looking back on the year brings a smile to host GARY COLLINS' face, and deservedly so. The show is a hit and will be seen in more than 115 markets this year.

Actor Collins now feels like a veteran interviewer, but it wasn't always that easy.

He recalled, "Being an actor doesn't prepare you for the technique of interviewing. So much of acting is improvisation. It's spontaneous. Here I have to do my homework. The atmosphere is more controlled."

As Collins sees it, "Hour Magazine" is a show designed to help the viewers and does so through its investigation of, for example, mental health or physical health or the health of children.

He noted, "I treat interviews as if it's the first time I'm dealing with the subject matter. All subjects are treated with a positive frame of mind. Each guest gets a different reaction from the audience and I've got to be prepared for that."

His work on "Hour" has put Collins in demand as an actor again, although he insists he does not know what his next role will be when he gets time off from the show next spring. Last summer he completed work on "Valley of the Dolls," a five-hour mini-series for CBS, which the powers-that-be in Hollywood say is his best work so far.

In "Valley," Collins plays Kevin Gilmore, a cosmetics tycoon who falls in love with the Jennifer character, portrayed by Veronica Hamel. Although he insists "crying does not come easy to me," Collins found himself sobbing at the kitchen table when he was studying his lines. The storyline promises to be a real tear-jerker.

"I guess I've never had too many crises, so I don't cry," he explained. "I'm basically a survivor. I will admit, though, that watching 'Little House on the Prairie' will do it to me. I've cried over Melissa Gilbert's plight many times."

MILTON BERLE may also be shedding a few tears, but not because of high drama. Uncle Miltie's contract with NBC — which guaranteed him $200,000 per year for 30 years has expired.

It's a savings for NBC, which not only paid Miltie more than $6 million during the 30-year period, but also had to foot high dry-cleaning bills for his dresses.

ROWAN AND MARTIN will be returning to NBC, as Berle departs the payroll. The comedy team who have not worked together since "Laugh In" went off the air in 1973 — are joining together as the hosts of "Ultra Quiz," a game show special for NBC. Dan Rowan will have to leave his houseboat to work again.

CONFIDENTIAL: Although the details are not complete, word is that REGIS PHILBIN, who has recently been hosting "A.M. Los Angeles," will get another chance at a national show when he signs on to headline a daily talk show for NBC. Meanwhile, Regis' co-host on "A.M." CYNDY GARVY, has left California to find bliss in New York with Marvin Hamlisch.

At the same time, JULIE HARRIS, is leaving her upstate New York home to do at least 15 episodes of "Knots Landing." The arrival of the first lady of Broadway to Hollywood has been greeted with tremendous fanfare. The "Landing" producers are rolling out the red carpet.

And finally, the era of MIKE DOUGLAS' talk show appears to have come to a close. Douglas has announced that he'll drop the interview format for straight variety. There will continue to be a co-host, because that's Douglas' trademark, but other than that everyone appearing on the show will be there to entertain.
